UBC TOASTS KELOWNA

Some of the more than 75 UBC students, who toured the Kelowna area Wednesday and Thursday, posed with Grant Stewart, left, sales representative of Sun-Rype Ltd. to toast Kelowna after a look at the company's operation. The trip, which must be taken by students before graduation, includes a week checking various agricultural enterprises, among them a Winfield orchard, Calona Wines Ltd. and South Okanagan Dairy Industries Co-operative Association and Alcan plants in Vernon.

Third and fourth-year students make up the contingent, which will conclude its trip with a look at Kamloops district agriculture. —(Courier Photo)

Shield Of Humans Used To Head Viet Cong Attack

SAIGON (AP) — A veteran Viet Cong battalion, herding women and children in front as human shields, smashed into a company of American paratroopers in three waves early today.

Thirty-one Americans and an equal number of Viet Cong were killed.

The waves of troops from the Viet Cong's Cu Chi Regiment broke through a U.S. company 26 miles northwest of Saigon. The Viet Cong and the paratroopers were still locked in battle as night fell. Associated Press photographer Max Nash reported from the battlefield that many of the Americans were killed by the Viet Cong as they lay wounded on the field.

Rush's Lawyers Plan Appeal Following Extradition Ruling

LONDON (CP) — Magistrate Kenneth Barracough ruled today that Myer Rush, wanted on a $100,000,000 stock - fraud conspiracy charge, should be extradited to face those charges in Canada.

The defence asked the court whether Rush could have special medical treatment while in prison awaiting appeal and Barracough ruled this would be a matter for the prison, not for his court.

Today's ruling came after another session of intensive court consideration of the case.

WINDS UP CASE
Sir Peter Rawlinson, winding up the case for the Toronto stock promoter, cited a number of British court cases to support his contention that British law did not consider it an indictable crime if a conspiracy to defraud was conducted outside the jurisdiction of this country.

Rawlinson maintained that in the Rush case Magistrate Barracough must consider the situation as though Canadian territory was British territory. If there was a conspiracy, the conspiracy was conducted in the United States against U.S. stock buyers, he argued.

The Crown had argued that the fraud, involving $100,000,000 in rural or potential stock sales, could possibly have been carried out against Canadians as well, but there was no evidence that any Canadians had been so induced, Rawlinson said.

Rush, arrested here June 21, faces a number of charges arising from his control and operations of British Overseas Mutual Fund Corp. and Darian Explorations Ltd. British Overseas Mutual had maintained it possessed large claims in Guyana with promising possibilities of yielding gold and precious stones.

Woman Admits Torturing And Starving Orphan Children

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters) — A woman confessed to torturing and starving children in her care at the "abode of light" orphanage on the outskirts of Rio, police said today.

Between 10 and 11 deaths at the orphanage—dubbed by the Brazilian press the House of Horrors — are under investigation. Police said the children there were murdered, tortured and sexually assaulted.

They said Edilza Barbosa Marques admitted in a confession Wednesday night that some of the children at the home had died and that funeral homes provided false death certificates and buried the bodies.

In her confession, she is claimed to have said three men threatened to kill her husband, who ran the home with her, and burn down the orphanage unless she promised to starve and torture the children.

She was detained by police when they raided the orphanage Thursday. Her husband Abel still is being sought by police.

Police said five of the children at the orphanage had been kept well fed and dressed to accompany Marques when he appeared on Rio television in appeals for funds.

BOY WITH DANGEROUS EPILEPSY RETURNS TO DELINQUENTS SCHOOL

LANGLEY, B.C. (CP) — Forest Murray Chapman, 14, of Sardis, B.C., who suffers from a dangerous form of epilepsy, Thursday was sent back to the school for juvenile delinquents after escaping from July 31.

The commitment was made in juvenile court in this Fraser Valley community after Judge A. H. Kelly heard evidence from three doctors and a probation officer who recommended he be returned to Brannan Lake school near Nanaimo.

The youth-admitted-escaping-boy would benefit from special long-term residential schooling but no facilities exist in B.C. and several schools canvassed outside the province were found unsuitable.

He denied breaking into a house near Langville, on Vancouver Island, and that charge was referred back to Nanaimo.

This court appearance followed a 30-day remand to Riverview mental hospital after his psychiatrist testified the youth may be mentally ill.

Riverview psychiatrists testified Thursday he suffers from a degree of brain damage but they believed this could be helped only by long-term residential schooling.

The doctors said they felt the boy would benefit from special long-term residential schooling but no facilities exist in B.C. and several schools canvassed outside the province were found unsuitable.

Talks Collapse In Grain Strike

PORT ARTHUR (CP) — Federal mediator D. S. Tysoe of Vancouver Thursday night abruptly stopped mediating in a contract dispute between 1,300 striking grain handlers and 10 companies which operate 23 Lakehead terminal elevators. He decided further talks were pointless.

Mr. Tysoe said the union is prepared to meet again, when these companies realize the "seriousness" of the situation and stop playing games.

He told W. S. Neal, counsel for the companies, that he would have "no recommendations to make to either the minister (of labor) or the parties," and declined further comment.

Mr. Tysoe began mediating Aug. 1 in the strike that began 50 days ago.

Frank Mazur, negotiating committee chairman of Lodge 650, Brotherhood of Railway, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees, said the impasse came when negotiators for the companies sat "mutely at the bargaining table, making no offers while company public relations men distributed news releases containing statements about offers being made" to the union.

Mr. Mazur said his committee had indicated an area in which they would bargain, but the companies stated there could be no two-year agreement unless it was less than the 70 cents recommended in July by the chairman of a federal conciliation board.

Ottawa Report 'Unrealistic' On Prairie Wheat Estimate

WINNIPEG (CP) — James Richardson and Sons Ltd. says this year's Prairie wheat crop will be substantially below the forecast of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics issued this week.

The bureau predicted a 628,000-bushel harvest based on conditions as of Aug. 15.

The grain firm, in its weekly market letter, considers the figure "completely unrealistic insofar as it mirrors crop prospects as of Aug. 15, and adds: "Since that time, there has been nothing but rain and much below normal temperatures over the Prairies which has tended to slow maturity of the later-sown crops and completely shatter the hopes of the early-sown ones."

"For instance, some of the barley that went into the ground early in Manitoba and has already been swathed has been sitting in water for up to four weeks and will not be a marketable crop if and when it is harvested. This situation is not peculiar to Manitoba but spills over into many districts in Western Canada."

UN Bickers On Mid-East

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — U.S.-Soviet disagreement dogged the Security Council's 10 non-permanent members today as they discussed what to do about Israel's complaint that Egyptian troops killed two Israeli soldiers and kidnapped a third in an ambush by the Suez Canal Aug. 28.

The United States is demanding action and the Soviet Union is threatening a veto. Many diplomats felt general agreement would be so hard to reach that it would be next week before the council could meet again to wind up the debate which started Wednesday.

French Students Achieve Win

MONTREAL (CP) — French-speaking students Thursday night marched triumphantly out of Alme Renaud high school in suburban St. Leonard after Le Royer regional school board agreed to continue instruction in French at the school.

The students, who began their occupation of the school last Friday to protest a board decision to turn Alme Renaud over to English-speaking students, cheered as they left the four-story building inside which they had barricaded themselves.

Brittany Nationalists Bomb Brest
BREST, France (AP) — Five explosions were touched off in municipal and tax collecting offices, apparently by Brittany nationalists. Severe damage was done but no one was injured. The Bretons are of Celtic origin, and the movement for "liberation" has existed for many years.

Hong Kong Flu May Reach Canada
MONTREAL (CP) — The University of Montreal's Institute of microbiology and hygiene warned today that an epidemic of a new kind of Asian flu may reach North America before the end of the year. Dr. Armand Frappier, director of the institute—the only flu vaccine production centre in Canada—said the institute has received samples from the World Health Organization of the new virus strain, called "Hong Kong" because it was first reported there.

U.S. Raids On N. Vietnam Show Increase
HANOI (AFP) — The number of United States air raids over North Vietnam rose to 6,500 last month—an average of 210 a day—from 6,400 in July. It was announced here. Fifty-four U.S. aircraft were shot down during August and "several" pilots "eliminated or captured."

Summit On Missiles 'Not Sighted'
WASHINGTON (Reuters) — President Johnson said today he sees no immediate prospect of a summit meeting with Soviet leaders to discuss limitation of nuclear missiles.

Liberal Elements To Quit And Many People Flee Land

PRAGUE (CP) — Further resignations from the government were forecast today as Czechoslovak leaders reluctantly toe the policy line laid down by Moscow.

There has been speculation that one of those who may go is Information Minister Miroslav Galuska whose office is responsible for the reimposition of censorship. Doubt also surrounds the future of Jiri Hajek, the absent foreign minister.

Informed sources here said Hajek intends to return to Prague in the next few days from Switzerland. He was on vacation in Yugoslavia when Warsaw pact troops entered Czechoslovakia and he angered the Russians by flying to the United Nations to plead his country's cause. Hajek has been heavily attacked in the Soviet press.

Resignations of some government members were thought to have been considered Thursday at a meeting of the National Assembly which Prague radio said had discussed the subject of ministers who did not take part in its last meeting.

SIK, PAVEL RESIGN
Deputy Premier Ota Sik and Interior Minister Josef Pavel have already resigned. Both men were liberals.

Czechoslovak leaders continue to appeal to the population to accept policy limits imposed on them by Russia in the hope of securing early withdrawal of occupation troops. Alexander Dubcek, President Ludvik Svoboda and Prime Minister Oldrich Cernik have paid visits to large industrial plants as part of this campaign.

The Slovak party first secretary, Gustav Husak, appealed to journalists to respect the new press curbs and not to compel the authorities to enforce them by censorship. Failing that, harsh measures might have to be taken, he warned.

Husak blamed panic rumors for provoking the flight of many Czechoslovaks from the country and appealed to them to return. He said fears of arrest and persecution were groundless, and no foreign forces were carrying out arrests in Czechoslovakia.

Squabbling Holds Up Food Needed By Biafra Starving

LAGOS (AP) — The Red Cross stepped up its night food flights to Biafra Thursday night as squabbling between the Nigerian and Biafran governments continued to delay the start of a daytime foodlift.

The International Red Cross Committee in Geneva said six planes landed 43 tons of food and medicine and 33 relief and medical workers during the night. A spokesman said the number of flights is likely to be increased in the next few nights.

August Lindt, international Red Cross coordinator for West Africa, was in Biafra Thursday trying to persuade the secessionist leaders to accept Nigeria's condition for not interfering with the plane loads of food and medicine and that they land at a Biafran air strip called Anabelle.

Diplomatic sources said Lindt might return to Lagos if the two sides in the 14-month-old civil war continued to disagree on a landing site.

"We will not change our stand," a Nigerian military spokesman said.

ALLOW 10 DAYS
The Nigerians had threatened to shoot down all planes flying into Biafra, contending that they might be carrying arms to the rebels. But they agreed not to interfere for 10 days, starting Thursday, with Red Cross mercy flights going to Annabelle.

Rumors Flying In Edmonton That Manning Might Quit

EDMONTON (CP) — Speculation is mounting among political observers in Alberta that Premier E. C. Manning may step down this fall from the office he has occupied for just over 25 years.

The premier, who will be 60 Sept. 20, has said nothing publicly to confirm or deny the speculation, but some sources close to Social Credit party affairs say he has announced retirement plans to his closest advisers.

The Calgary Herald has reported that "word of the premier's intentions has rippled through senior Social Credit ranks, and already there are indications that as many as four senior cabinet ministers are prepared to try wearing Mr. Manning's crown."

The Edmonton Journal says the Social Credit party in Alberta is gearing itself for a very possible leadership convention in November.

"Premier Manning still is not saying a word, but the feeling is growing that he will announce, perhaps on his 60th birthday, Sept. 20, that he is stepping down."

MAY SUCCEED HIM
Mentioned as possible successors to the premier are Municipal Affairs Minister Harry Strom, 54; Education and Labor Minister Ray Reiersen, 48; Highways Minister Gordon Taylor, 58; and Attorney-General Edgar Herhart, 44.

If Mr. Manning leaves the premiership, he likely will remain publicly active in two important respects: In his religious work and in his campaign to promote a new small-conservative force in national politics.

Mr. Manning preaches every Sunday on his National Back to the Bible Hour program, which reaches a radio audience of 1,000,000 or more in the United States and Canada.

Mr. Manning's retirement this fall would leave his successor three to four years to prepare for the next provincial election.

Canada Wheat Industry 'Must Consider Change'

The Canadian wheat industry must be ready to change to meet world market requirements, Agriculture Minister H. A. Olson said Thursday in Montebello, Que. He said the Canadian wheat industry is primarily an export business and the agriculture department would not hesitate to recommend changes in wheat quality if it was to the economic advantage of the farmer. "We cannot afford to be caught in a situation where we are unable to supply the kind of wheat products that a significant and increasing portion of the world population demands."

Forestry Minister Ray Williams said in Victoria Thursday the British Columbia government has a 10-year "rehabilitation" program planned to clean up the mammoth tangle behind the 600-foot high W. A. C. Bennett dam. Debris, logging slash, deadheads and mud slides in the rising waters behind the dam have rendered the body of water nearly impassible to pleasure boats. The dam is part of the $485,000,000 Peace River hydro project. Replying to criticism of the tangled lake, the minister said in an interview that it was only temporary. But he added: "For the first couple of years the fewer do-gooders we have up there the better."

The Trudeau government stands behind former prime minister Lester Pearson's promise that Canada will press for an international sugar agreement, Jamaican Prime Minister Hugh Shearer was told Thursday in Ottawa. The assurance was given by External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp during a two-hour discussion with Mr. Shearer in the Commonwealth Room of Parliament's Centre Block. Prime Minister Trudeau attended for the first hour and told Mr. Shearer Canada has no selfish interests in the Caribbean and wishes the region stability and prosperity.

ROBERT MENZIES
... sudden illness

Robert Menzies, former Australian prime minister, was taken to a London hospital

Thursday after a sudden illness. Doctors attending Menzies, 73, denied reports he had suffered a heart attack but declined to specify the nature of the illness.

The Canadian Labor Congress describes the Rand report as a "retrograde step" and says it seeks to expand the area of coercion in labor-management relations. In a statement issued in Ottawa Thursday night over the name of its president, Donald MacDonald, the CLC said the report by royal commissioner Ivan Rand would upset "well-recognized and accepted labor-management procedures based both on legislation and mutual agreement."

The British Columbia government ferry Queen of Powell River was aground on a sandbar for two hours Thursday near the ferry slip at Salsbery Bay, 60 miles northwest of Vancouver. Monty Aldous, general manager of the B.C. Ferry Authority said later a team of officials was investigating the incident.

Premier Robichaud said Thursday in Vancouver New Brunswick needs an "adequate share of the national pot" and said the province will have trouble instituting official bilingualism without it. Of plans for bilingualism, he told a Canadian Bar Association section meeting: "It's going to be costly—and I have no notified the federal authorities." He didn't say what had resulted.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell said in Victoria provincial government contributions to local winter works projects will be discontinued now that the federal program has been cancelled. When asked if assistance would be continued, Mr. Campbell said: "There is no winter works program. There is nothing to contribute to."

Alexander Dubcek was punched repeatedly and his chauffeur shot and killed when Soviet Security men and troops raided Czechoslovak Communist party headquarters in Prague to arrest him last month, he Monde reported Thursday in Paris. The independent French newspaper said its version of the Czechoslovak Communist party first secretary's detention, similar to informed accounts from Prague, came from "a personality whose identity we cannot reveal."

In Port Au Prince President Francois Duvalier of Haiti announced Thursday that he will free David Knox, Bahamian information director sentenced to death on spying charges. The president made the announcement after British Ambassador Dalton Murray made a personal plea for clemency for Knox, accused of being involved in an abortive invasion of Haiti last May.

At Smiths Falls, Ont., a shotgun exploded in the hands of a policeman delivering a gun-safety lecture. Constable Al Durant, 27, lost the thumb and a finger on his left hand. The demonstration was for the benefit of a group of people taking a government-sponsored course on hunter safety.

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan (NDP Cowichan-Malahat) criticized Premier Bennett in Victoria Thursday for "costly and unproductive junketing abroad at the taxpayers' expense." He told a news conference that the premier, just winding up a visit to The Netherlands as part of a three-week European trip, should decide whether these trips are a holiday or business.

Mayor Vincent Dantzer of Edmonton was cleared in Alberta District Court Thursday of conflict of interest in city council business dealing with zoning matters. He was cleared after two days of hearings on an application by lawyer Edward Kenney, a former city employee.

Cluttered Skies Control Expected By U.S. Airlines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major airlines say they expect U.S. government controls aimed at clearing the cluttered skies of New York, Chicago and Washington to become law by Nov. 1.

This was the airlines' resigned reaction this week to the transportation department's listing of what would be the first-ever federal controls on air traffic.

But the pilots of small planes vowed a fight.

The regulations proposed by the transportation department would slash takeoffs and landings during peak hours at O'Hare Airport in Chicago, the world's busiest, by 82.

At New York's Kennedy International Airport peak traffic would see a drop by 48 takeoffs and landings an hour. Small planes would be barred from 5 to 8 p.m. daily.

Stuart Tipton, president of the Air Transport Association, representing the commercial airlines in the United States, didn't object to the proposals, although he said they should be considered only stopgap measures.

But the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association, which counts 145,000 private pilots as members, said: "The AOPA intends to forcefully oppose this proposed rule making with every means at our command, while we continue to press for the fair and proper solutions to the air traffic management problems."

The Federal Aviation Administration plans a public hearing on the proposed limits Sept. 25. The government warned the airlines last month to propose voluntary measures for trimming air congestion.

Air traffic controllers attracted attention to the problem by strictly enforcing safety clearances between planes, leading to delays of as long as five hours at busy East Coast airports.

The airlines came up with plans for a joint airline committee to act as a schedule coordinator and a scheme of sliding fare rates to encourage travel at slack periods.

DISCUSS MEASURES
The airlines meet with the Civil Aeronautics Board today to discuss the voluntary measures.

The transportation department proposals set an hourly limit of 80 takeoffs and landings at Kennedy, where as many as 128 have been recorded in a single hour.

Chicago's double-runway O'Hare has logged as many as 217, but would be restricted to 135.

At Washington National, just across the Potomac from the capital, the top limit would be 60 an hour. The same limit was proposed for La Guardia and Newark in the New York area.

The limit at all airports would be broken down between various classes of flights. O'Hare's limits, for example, would permit 115 takeoffs and landings for airlines, 10 for air taxis and 10 for other planes.

VANCOUVER (CP) — There is a constant danger of a major mid-air collision involving flights over Canada, Vern Schwab, an Edmonton aviation law specialist, told the Canadian Bar Association convention Wednesday.

"Such a tragedy is likely to trigger a public outcry and public demand for drastic and immediate action," he said.

Mr. Schwab said the amount of air space in which planes can fly is becoming more crowded and in some parts of Canada there is not enough space left. "Air traffic control measures will have to become more and more restrictive and each new measure will further diminish the right to free use of air space," he said.

He listed Toronto, Montreal, Windsor and Vancouver among areas of concern in air traffic congestion.

Israelis Arrest More Arabs After Tel Aviv Bomb Blasts

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli police picked up four more suspects in raids before dawn today, bringing to 18 the number of Arabs arrested on suspicion of taking part in bombings in Tel Aviv and Jerusalem.

Only 36 hours after three explosive charges killed one Israeli and wounded 59 at the crowded Tel Aviv bus station, police announced they had captured the bomb squad.

The group, from Arab Jerusalem and the West Bank territory seized from Jordan in the 1967 war, was also accused of exploding a bomb in a Jerusalem cafe Aug. 1, a grenade in the courtyard of the U.S. Consulate in east Jerusalem Aug. 8, and a number of grenades which wounded nine Israelis Aug. 18 in the Holy City.

Firing continued across the Jordanian border today, and four Israeli border police patrolling in an army half-track were wounded slightly near the settlement of Neve Ur, in the Beisan Valley, the army reported. The Israelis returned the fire, a spokesman said.

Israelis Arrest More Arabs After Tel Aviv Bomb Blasts

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli police picked up four more suspects in raids before dawn today, bringing to 18 the number of Arabs arrested on suspicion of taking part in bombings in Tel Aviv and Jerusalem.

Only 36 hours after three explosive charges killed one Israeli and wounded 59 at the crowded Tel Aviv bus station, police announced they had captured the bomb squad.

The group, from Arab Jerusalem and the West Bank territory seized from Jordan in the 1967 war, was also accused of exploding a bomb in a Jerusalem cafe Aug. 1, a grenade in the courtyard of the U.S. Consulate in east Jerusalem Aug. 8, and a number of grenades which wounded nine Israelis Aug. 18 in the Holy City.

Firing continued across the Jordanian border today, and four Israeli border police patrolling in an army half-track were wounded slightly near the settlement of Neve Ur, in the Beisan Valley, the army reported. The Israelis returned the fire, a spokesman said.

SECOND SERVICE

Airline Plans Outlined Here

Kelowna officials indicated Wednesday they will welcome a second airline service to the interior, providing existing services are not jeopardized.

B.C. Air Lines Ltd. revealed Aug. 20, it has applied to the Air Transport Committee in Ottawa to service 12 interior communities with a prop-jet aircraft.

City officials here were caught by surprise but Wednesday the firm's plans were explained by three airline representatives.

Talking to a meeting of city, chamber and news media, were Sidney Reynolds, director, marketing and customer service, B.C. Air Lines Ltd., accompanied by R. E. Walker, vice-president, Young, Ross, Anthony and associates, Vancouver and F. C. Fraser, director, public relations, CAE Industries Ltd., Montreal. B.C. Air Lines is a subsidiary of CAE.

B.C. Air Lines proposes to operate a north-south service in the interior and an east-west Vancouver-Penticton-Castlegar-Cranbrook-Calgary service.

There is no existing north-south scheduled airline service but CP Air does have an east-west service identical to the one proposed by B.C. Air Lines.

Mr. Reynolds said, with the DC3 "reaching the end of its tether" and the arrival of the CP Air Boeing 737 jets, B.C. Air Lines felt there was a need for a feeder line service, with their new Handley Page 18-passenger Jetstream aircraft being ideally suited for a "milk run".

He said it is assumed CP Air would drop Castlegar and Cranbrook from its east-west flights, thus providing Kelowna and Penticton with a non-stop service to Calgary.

"You would have the best of two worlds," Mr. Reynolds said Wednesday. "Areas which have no service will be opened up and the mainline services will be complemented with feeder line directing traffic to them."

He said if there is no opposition, a public hearing will be necessary and the service could be delayed indefinitely. To date there has been no opposition, he said.

Robert Wilson, chamber representative on the Kelowna Airport Commission, put Kelowna's feeling into words, when he asked "Are we in a moral position to support B.C. Air Lines without getting clearance from CP Air, to whom we owe so much?"

"Our major concern is our loyalty to CP Air," chamber president Bruce Winsby said.

Mr. Reynolds suggested the compromise—that local officials indicate B.C. Air Lines proposed service fits a need and Kelowna approves the service, but would not want to jeopardize existing services.

Those attending the meeting agreed the city and chamber would get together and write a letter along the lines suggested, indicating their approval, subject to the proposed service not being in conflict with the existing carrier.

PLANE PROPOSED FOR NEW SERVICE

A model of one of the three jetstream aircraft proposed for the new service to the Interior by B.C. Air Lines Ltd. It is a turbo-prop, fully pressurized and carries 18 passengers. The production models are just now coming off the assembly line and are said to be ideally suited for the "milk runs" proposed for the Interior by the Vancouver-based firm. When fully equipped the Handley Page Jetstream costs $750,000 each and have unlimited alternate landing distance range.

Pool Drive For Funds Set In Motion By C of C

The special events bureau of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce has set the wheels in motion for a city-wide fund drive to pay for an indoor, Olympic-sized swimming pool.

Word was given at a chamber executive meeting Thursday a general chairman is being sought for the fund raising committee.

Although the pool scheme has been a dream in Kelowna for years, Ald. Hilbert Roth gave the idea its most recent shot in the arm and asked the chamber to sponsor the fund raising. The special events bureau, a part of the chamber, has agreed to do this, and Jim Hayes has been appointed to organize the campaign.

Frank Addison, in charge of the special events bureau, said that although Ald. Roth would like to see the pool built soon, "the chairman's job will be a one-year job."

"A really good chairman is the key to the success of this," he said. "I would hope it would take less than a year, but I don't think so."

Backing up the chamber's work on the pool is a feasibility study released in 1967 by the Kelowna and District Indoor Swimming Pool Society, headed by Dr. Gerald Stewart.

President Bruce Winsby warned the meeting to make sure the campaign does not conflict with the local United Appeal fund raising efforts.

No date for the start of the campaign was mentioned.

REGATTA REVIEW

Plans are also under way for the chamber's part in a mid-October "Regatta Review", a public forum to discuss ways of improving the annual Regatta and providing an outlet for complaints about this year's show.

Len Leathley, a past Regatta general chairman, has been appointed moderator, and all local service clubs and the general public will be invited to attend.

Methods of co-ordinating the efforts of the city, the chamber, the newly set up Industrial Development Commission and the Okanagan Regional District in the search for suitable industrial sites are still being investigated.

R. E. Nourse told the meeting that the regional district has been approached by the chamber and the two bodies will meet to discuss ways of providing a readily-accessible "shopping market of sites" to industries locating in the Kelowna area.

Consumer Glass Ltd.'s recent decision to locate their $10-million plant in the Vernon area, instead of in Kelowna, seems to have spurred the various planning bodies to combine their efforts.

"The regional district is quite keen in this area," Mr. Winsby said. "They can be quite helpful in providing service to our entire area."

The chamber has not approached the four-man city's Industrial Development Commission yet, but the president said this will be done when a plan of attack has been set up with the regional district.

A chamber member has been invited to the regional district's next meeting.

Beautification of the downtown area, a subject that has appeared on the chamber's minutes for several weeks in a row, was discussed Thursday.

President Winsby said it actually means civic redevelopment and that there are "a few small areas" in Kelowna that are badly in need of a facelift. He mentioned some of the buildings on Bernard Avenue. "If renovation are not done from time to time we get some pretty poor looking specimens in our modern community."

The chamber agreed not much constructive action can be taken until the more inclusive urban renewal plans of the city are given government approval.

Clean-Up Drive Showing Results

Operation cosmetic, an all-out attack on city eyesores is beginning to bear fruit.

"The project has drawn good response from residents and I have noticed quite an improvement in the downtown area; places being renovated and painted," Ald. Angus commented Thursday.

"We still get a lot of calls from people tearing down old sheds which the city hauls away free if they are placed in the alley," he said.

The project was initiated at the federal level and Mr. Angus believes there has been a gradual improvement in Kelowna in each year of the plan.

Letters were sent out in May and early June to residents whose premises needed improvement, and merchants whose premises needed painting or renovation.

In fact the response has been so good that when one resident was advised his tree was crawling with caterpillars, he promptly cut the tree down.

Ald. Angus admits the biggest problem is old sheds, but quite a few have been torn down.

"People have been responsive," he said, "they see their neighbors cleaning up and follow suit."

Ald. Angus believes the cleanliness of the city is a drawing card to tourists.

City's Growth Potential Outstanding Says Official

Mr. Reynolds said Kelowna's growth potential is "outstanding." He said, although the head office and base would remain in Vancouver, line maintenance facilities would have to be available somewhere between Penticton and Kamloops.

Mr. Reynolds said the north-south travel was a "logical development" and Kelowna a logical site for a collecting point—a main terminal providing services to larger centres.

Mr. Reynolds said fares would be the same as current CP Air fares.

He said he was sorry his news Aug. 20, caught city officials by surprise, but he was not allowed to disclose his plans before the request had been accepted for consideration by Air Transport. He said a preliminary study was started more than a year ago and a professional independent firm had confirmed the airline's findings. All commuter services are to be co-ordinated with mainline services.

The major new routes included in the application are service from Vancouver through Penticton, Castlegar and Cranbrook to Kelowna; from Penticton to Kelowna and Kamloops; and from Kamloops through Williams Lake, Quesnel, Prince George, Burns Lake and Smithers to Terrace, with this route ultimately being extended to include Prince Rupert. All are return services.

The proposed service frequency would generally provide four flights daily each way between Vancouver, Penticton and Castlegar; three flights daily each way between Vancouver and Cranbrook; two flights daily each way between Vancouver and Calgary; two flights daily each way between Penticton, Kelowna and Kamloops; and one flight daily each way between Kamloops, Williams Lake, Quesnel, Prince George, Burns Lake and Smithers, with the Smithers-Terrace leg initially operating one flight per week each way.

The services would connect at cities such as Kamloops, Penticton, Terrace, Kelowna, Penticton and, of course, Vancouver and Calgary, with CP Air flights and with those of other mainline carriers in the two larger cities.

Jobless Count Shows Decline

On Sept. 1 there were 1,109 men and 512 women seeking work through the Canada Manpower Centre, Kelowna.

The figures show a decrease of 345 male and 202 female clients since Aug. 1. During the period there were 14 male and nine female adults undergoing training both in upgrading and skilled trades under the manpower occupational training for adults program.

Male placements were mainly in construction, forestry and retail trade. The majority of female placements were in the service industry. All orders were filled readily with the exception of legal stenographers, qualified hairdressers and housekeepers to live in.

Kelowna To Be Visited By Westminster Chamber

Kelowna will be visited Sept. 20 by 35 members of the New Westminster Chamber of Commerce, as part of a goodwill tour of the Interior.

The group will leave New Westminster by bus on a Wednesday for Kamloops, spend Thursday in Vernon and will arrive in Kelowna Friday at 9:45 a.m.

The first item on the Kelowna itinerary is a tour of a vineyard and at 10:30 a.m., a tour of Brown Bros. book-binding plant.

The visitors will check into the Capri Motor Hotel at 11:45 a.m. and eat lunch at the Aquatic with members of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce.

The afternoon will include a tour of the Sun-Rype plant and of Calona Vineyards.

Dinner and the evening will be spent at the Capri with the tour continuing by bus to Penticton at 9 a.m. Saturday.

After a day in Penticton, the group will leave Sunday to return to New Westminster via the CP Air flight to Vancouver.

Car-Truck Collision Injures Man

A Kelowna man involved in a traffic accident Thursday discovered City of Kelowna trucks are apparently invincible.

Arthur Jones, 2288 Richter St., suffered minor chest injuries when the car he was driving collided with a city truck at St. Paul St. and Cawston Avenue, at 2:20 p.m.

RCMP report an estimated $1,000 damage was done to Mr. Jones' car, but that the city truck, driven by John Lahm, received no damage. Mr. Jones was taken to Kelowna General Hospital and released after treatment.

A two-car collision involving Annette Neabers, Rutland, and Alexander Robertson, Kelowna, occurred at Queensway Avenue and Ellis Street Thursday at 1:45 p.m. resulting in an estimated $600 total damage. Neither of the drivers was injured.

A third crash occurred Thursday at 3 p.m. on Strathcona Avenue when a Wildwood, Alta., woman struck two parked trucks while driving out of a parking space. The truck belonged to a Penticton electrical firm. The driver of the car was Veda Parkes.

UNSETTLED weather is forecast for the Okanagan Saturday.

A few cloudy intervals are expected Saturday, sunny; cooler with light winds occasionally northerly 15.

Today should be mainly cloudy with widely scattered showers this afternoon and evening, skies clearing tonight. The low tonight and high Saturday should be 53 and 75.

The low and high recorded in Kelowna Thursday were 56 and 80 compared with 57 and 76 and .18 inches of precipitation on the same date a year ago.

HITS FAMILY

Arthritis strikes at the heart of the community—the family. It attacks all age groups. According to the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, it is much more common in children than most people realize. The earlier the diagnosis is made and treatment is begun, the better the chances for the future. C.A.R.S. has 123 children from all parts of B.C. on their intensive care program in Vancouver.

Don't Give New Airport Stock Name Urges Winsby

The Kelowna Chamber of Commerce decided Thursday it would like to take a hand in naming the city's new airport. Speaking of the airport's official opening in October, chamber president Bruce Winsby said, "I think it would be extremely appropriate to call it something other than simply the 'Kelowna Airport'." The chamber will solicit suggestions for a name.

Apologies were spoken at the executive meeting to the chamber, members who had their names left out of the recently published directory of member firms. The directory was apparently a rush job and missed all the private members as well as a few of the corporate members.

Kelowna may have an international regatta, but apparently people as near as Vancouver don't know much about it. Alex Jurassovich, a Rutland Chamber of Commerce member told the Kelowna chamber he was asked many times while in Vancouver when the Regatta was.

Whether or not the chamber should pay members' expenses for convention travelling is a question that needs "a very close look," the chamber decided. President Winsby said he feels some people who could be doing fine work within the chamber are being discouraged by their out-of-pocket expenses and time lost at conventions.

A letter will be sent to the secretary of the B.C. Liquor Control Board asking for "yardsticks" guiding the building sizes and parking regulations for individual liquor outlets. The chamber was told by President Winsby that Kelowna's liquor store on Leon Avenue has seriously inadequate parking facilities resulting in entrances to nearby businesses being blocked at busy hours.

The Rutland Chamber of Commerce is holding a member wine and cheese party in that community Sept. 14.

Special Meeting Set For Rutland

A special meeting will be held in the Rutland Centennial Hall Wednesday at 8 p.m.

On the agenda is a resolution asking a letter be written to the Central Okanagan Regional District asking it to take over the Rutland Parks Society property.

The property includes park land, a swimming pool and a new Centennial Hall. The hall is not in financial difficulty. A new $100,000 outdoor pool is being planned with the Agricultural Society, paying $60,000. The regional district may be asked to raise the other $40,000.

THE VALLEY SCENE

Premier Bennett is 68 today. He will probably observe his birthday quietly at some point on his current European tour. Last year, the premier, a native of Alberta County, N.B., said he felt younger than when he took office at 51.

The trip from Kelowna to Prince George is a long one for a weekend ball tournament, but members of the Royal Anne Royals discovered during the weekend that speed limits are strictly enforced in the Cariboo. Members of the team, in PG for the B.C. senior B football championship, were travelling in five cars and all five were stopped for speeding by RCMP using radar.

The Kelowna air is filled with smoke today, although there is no major fire in the area. A spokesman for the B.C. Forest Service said it is probably due to slash burning from logging operations.

A fall gallery show will be held in the board room of the Kelowna branch of the Okanagan Regional Library Oct. 8 to 19. Members of the Palette Club, arranging the show, sponsored by the Kelowna Art Exhibit Society invite those interested in exhibiting a painting to bring it to the library Oct. 7, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. There is no entrance fee to the show, which organizers hope will be representative of the work being done by artists in the Kelowna area.

The Palette Club will hold its first meeting of the fall in the Centennial Museum on Queensway Sept. 17 at 7:30 p.m. The club, formed under the auspices of the Kelowna Art Exhibit Society, meets once a week to paint and draw on its own. There is no fee and no instructor except when a special weekend workshop is arranged, perhaps twice a year.

The MV Flintry, a replica of the sternwheelers that plied Okanagan Lake a century ago, is out of commission only days after her maiden voyage. The boat suffered a problem unheard of in the days of the real sternwheelers—generator trouble. (Sternwheelers didn't have generators, just steam engines.) Christened last Saturday, the Flintry broke down Wednesday, and will probably not take to the water again until Saturday.

The age of superstitions belie may be over but... A man in magistrate's court was asked if Friday the 13th suited him for a trial date. "Oh no, please, any other day," he replied.

Educational Fall Program Arranged By City Chamber

The first dinner meeting of the fall season for the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce is described as "out of this world."

The B.C. Telephone Company will give a presentation called A Walk In Space, Wednesday at 6 p.m. in the Kelowna Aquatic building.

The visual dramatization of the use of space satellites was created by B.C. Tel in Vancouver. The complex set will be brought to Kelowna and set up in the Aquatic the day before the dinner meeting.

Through the use of film, black light, mock-up satellites and other ingenious visual devices, those attending will see Gordon MacFarlane take a 30-second walk in space.

Satellites will be seen in orbit around the world, relating all types of communications, and a projected satellite communication program for Canada.

The dinner Wednesday is one of three events arranged for September.

The Pacific Northwest Trade Association conference will be held here Sept. 15, 16 and 17, with the chamber of commerce acting as host. A second dinner

FOR ANOTHER YEAR

Ogopogo To Be Left In Peace

Ogopogo — the elusive lake monster. He has had many birthdays, nobody knows his age, but the date he was named is known and August was the 42nd anniversary of the official naming.

Many people have seen the famed fellow and many more have sought him without success.

Others want to find the beast, but are unable so far, to come to Kelowna to probe the depths of Okanagan Lake and its 80-mile length.

In spite of a New York man's promise to bring truckloads of equipment—including a submarine—to Kelowna and search out the famous Ogopogo, it looks as if the friendly monster's seaweedy bower will be left in place for at least another year.

"I'm looking for adventure," were the words of Jan Jaak-san, Watertown, N.Y., who was last heard from in May making "an elaborate plan" to find Ogopogo, or at least the bones of some of his relatives in Okanagan Lake.

After checking up on the man's seriousness, the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce said it would be "delighted" to have Mr. Jaak-san here for his monster hunt.

"But we haven't heard from him for a long time," Bill Stevenson, chamber manager, said Thursday.

"The last I heard, Mr. Jaak-san was trying to raise funds for the expedition. In fact, I've been thinking of writing to him and finding out what he is doing."

The 46-year-old machinery designer planned to arrive in Kelowna this month to begin preliminary work on the four-year search of the lake. Search of the lake bottom by submarine for bones of monsters, underwater photography by manned capsule and continual surveillance of the lake's surface were a few of the aspects of Mr. Jaak-san's plan of attack.

But, the best laid plans of mice and men...

Although a Vancouver newspaper claims to have made the first reference to Ogopogo in 1928, word was released to the world in Kelowna, Aug. 27, 1926 that "... the new name for the sea monster is Ogopogo". The announcement was made to a Vancouver Board of Trade Delegation visiting Kelowna, and not long afterward a reference to the monster appeared in the well-known British humor magazine, Punch.

Some of the earliest known reports of the monster, dating back to 1901, came from an early Valley resident, R. I. Ewings, the namesake of the Swings Landing, a spot on the west side about 25 miles north of Kelowna.

Mr. Ewings told of hearing Indians retell to him in a spot about halfway between Kelowna and Penticton, where the monster is reputed to live in a cave below the water. A "big animal in the water" was the way the Indians described it, naming it "Naitaka".

Punch honored the Valley with a rollicking ditty about the monster.

There have been many reports of sightings of Ogopogo since those days, on claiming the monster snatched two horses being towed across the lake on ropes. Supposed to possess a head like a calf, Ogopogo is between 30 and 40 feet long with scales along its snake-like back.

There have been two reported sightings this year, compared with six last year (for centennial) and two in 1966.

Short Takes

The north-west corner of Ellis and Harvey has now been completed and it should help to relieve some of the traffic holdup at that intersection, although it will not completely solve it. The rebuilt corner will allow for freer movement of right turning traffic and should ease the turning of trailer trucks both on and off Harvey. The poor driver who wants to turn left, however, still faces the same problem. Certainly the answer there at the moment is to avoid trying to make a left-hand turn there.

It is becoming increasingly evident that the city's north-south arteries must be improved. Narrow bridges on Abbott, Pandosy, Richter, Water, and even Ethel hamper free movement. This is especially true of the Abbott and Pandosy intersections with Harvey. Both are affected by the narrow bridges just to the south. These bridges were to be reconstructed a couple of years ago but the plans got lost in the shuffle. A wider bridge on Pandosy, and a parking ban between Pandosy and Lake, would allow two southbound traffic lanes at least as far as Lake, and this would be much better than having it jam together at the Harvey intersection. Eventually, and that would appear to be not too far distant, a no-parking ban on Pandosy must come.

The summer season on TV leaves one very pleasant memory. The summer fill-in "Pig and Whistle" has been a delight and the single "must" program in our house. It has been a fun program, full of humor. No blood and thunder, this. Just song and dance and fun among friends. The group of six dancers were a delight and as a matter of fact the whole cast gave the impression they were having a lot of fun with the show. And they brought the audience in. Haven't the slightest idea when the CBC will kill this program, but, for my money, part of that $140 million of taxpayers money might better be used on this type of show than on many the CBC has given birth to. Pig and Whistle should be continued.

Well, September is here and it has brought two changes. One the tourist cars are no longer a couple with a couple or more children; they are a couple of adults alone. Then, too, it is possible now to relax just a little when one sees a prairie car ahead of one. Today's tourist is not so prone to make a sudden and quite unorthodox turn.

As of July 31st there were 150 housing units under construction in the city of Kelowna. With the single exception of Prince George (201) this figure was higher than any other city in B.C. outside the metropolitan areas of Vancouver and Victoria. Kamloops had 41; Nanaimo 33; Penticton 76; Prince Rupert 125; Vernon 38. Housing completions in the first seven months of the year in Kelowna were 217, the highest in the province outside the metropolitan areas. Kamloops had 99; Nanaimo 58; Prince George 174 (a drop from the 678 of last year); Prince Rupert 82; Vernon 98. The housing starts in Kelowna in the first seven months were 217, second to Prince George's 229; Vernon had 55; Penticton 114 and Kamloops 76.

Ever wonder why tires are black? According to Goodyear engineers if they were not they would not be nearly as economical. Carbon black is the most effective strengthening agent available and accounts for about 20 per cent of the tire's weight. Without it, tires would last only a fraction as long. Carbon black gives tires their durability through a cross-linking of carbon and rubber molecules brought about by vulcanization.

The recent developments in the field of transplant surgery have provoked a good deal of discussion as to how we should define death. The British Medical Association has had a try, and so have the World Medical Association, and so has a committee of twelve learned men at Harvard University. There are two main reasons for this flurry of activity. In the first place medical techniques have now developed to a stage at which it can be made almost impossible for a man to die—in the sense that all the cells of his body cease to function and his flesh mortifies. It is therefore necessary to attempt a new definition of death for the guidance of doctors, so that they may know when, with a clear conscience, they can abandon the nursing and resuscitation of bodies which still have the spark of life within them, but which are unlikely ever to recover their function as vessels of a sentient being. Secondly, and perhaps more dramatically, but less importantly, gravely ill or injured persons need some formal protection against the current large appetites some surgeons have developed for fresh "spare parts". The public may take comfort in the concern now being shown for the problems of a situation in which each of us will some day be the principal figure, but all life scientists will bear in mind the truth that today's mortality bill will be tomorrow's eminently treatable patient. Definitions of death must remain as fluid as the ever moving art of healing.

How To Fail In Business

(Clip-Sheet)

Early this year an enterprising small businessman in an Ontario city got the idea that people probably would like to rent canvas chairs in one of the public parks. He secured agreement of the local parks officials, paid his rental for the concession and bought his supply of chairs. Unfortunately, his business venture was a failure. The chairs were purchased from a manufacturer in the United Kingdom. Just when his summer chair-rental business should have been off to a good start, the chairs were in the hold of a ship caught in the St. Lawrence Seaway strike.

The incident is only one of the indirect losses caused by the strike of 1,200 Seaway workers. The total cost if it could be counted, would be staggering. The direct loss in toll revenues and Seaway workers' wages was estimated at $130,000 a day. Loss of wages in the lake ports idled by the strike was set at $2,000,000 a week.

Fire Chief Paul Brown of Westbank received delivery of a new fire truck for the Westbank Volunteer Fire Brigade. The new '58 model truck has all the latest fire fighting equipment on it, along with a sparkling paint job. The delivery of the new truck coincides with the annual Fire Chief's College, held in Kelowna.

The Kodaks trimmed the Klippers in the deciding game of the city Minor Baseball championships. Eddie Walters received sound support from his team mates in the free hitting contest. Pete McIntyre was on the mound for 4 innings for the Klippers. Fred Stark taking over in the 5th. Now the youngsters are tucking away their gear for another year.

30 YEARS AGO

Sept. 1938

2,500 persons, mostly from Kelowna, crowded Knox Mountain Park on Thursday for the running of the first annual race meet by the Gyro Club of Kelowna. Of those present, 2,000 paid no money, the rest entered over the fence. Eleven fast races were staged in this the first meet for over fifteen years.

40 YEARS AGO

Sept. 1928

The Kelowna Public School opened this week with an attendance of 720, much greater than last year. This will increase in a few weeks as pupils employed in the fruit harvest return to school. The problem of placing 20 classes in 17 rooms was met by the use of one room for two classes—one class in the morning and one in the afternoon. This unsatisfactory solution is due to rejection by ratepayers of bylaws to supply more school rooms.

Some Students Seatless As Study Time Returns

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

University students across Canada, some of them lucky if they can find a seat, return in swelling numbers to the classrooms this month.

With enrolment steadily rising and building expansion not keeping up, space is a major problem.

However, a Cross-Canada Survey by The Canadian Press indicates most qualified applicants will be able to attend some university, although not necessarily the campus of their choice.

Montreal appears hardest hit. Sir George Williams University, which accommodates 5,600 students by day and 12,000 at night, had to turn away 3,000 applicants. However, it hopes to ease the situation by reorganizing class schedules.

University of Montreal, with about 20,000 students, has some over-populated departments out is trying a system of culling out applicants from these departments. For example, a specialist will discuss with a student who wants to be a doctor his chances of success in a related field, such as dentistry.

McGILL TAKES ALL
McGill University, meanwhile, says it is accepting all students who meet entrance requirements except those who had to write supplemental examinations.

Laval University in Quebec City says all qualified graduate applicants have been accepted except in medicine and psychology where lack of qualified teaching personnel limits the number of new students. It expects about 5,000 new students. Enrolment at all levels across Canada is much higher than last year's approximate total of 250,000, but figures for this year are not yet available.

In Ontario, expansion of the community college system is taking some pressure off universities.

Registration at the province's 14 universities is expected to total 85,000, an increase of 11,000 over last year. Another 25,000 are expected to sign up at 20 community colleges, up from 15,000.

SPACES STILL OPEN

University of Toronto is still looking for students to fill available undergraduate spaces at Scarborough and Etimadale campuses.

It takes stronger academic qualifications to gain admission to the main university campus. University of Ottawa, with more than 10,000 applications, is turning away nearly 200 from the physical education course and "many qualified applicants" from the undergraduate arts course. Law, medicine, nursing and library science are oversubscribed.

University of Western Ontario in London, Queen's in Kingston, St. George campus of University of Toronto and University of Guelph are all turning away qualified applicants from some faculties.

Other Ontario universities, including Laurentian in Sudbury, Lakehead in Port Arthur, McMaster in Hamilton, Brock in St. Catharines and University of Windsor, say they may have room to spare. Carleton University in Ottawa can admit all qualified applicants except in architecture while no serious space problems are reported at Trent University in Peterborough or at University of Waterloo.

A practice by Canadian students to apply at several universities hoping to be accepted by at least one has created the so-called artificial space shortage, a headache to registration officials when students do not cancel their applications early enough.

However, Memorial University in St. John's, Nfld., boasting that it has not turned away one away because of lack of space since moving to its new campus eight years ago, has a solution.

Registrar H. T. Renouf says students applying for entrance make "a considerable deposit." If they attend, it goes toward their university expenses. If they do not, the deposit is forfeited.

Although no serious space problems are anticipated in Nova Scotia, St. Francis Xavier University in Antigonish is delaying its opening date for a week until residence facilities can be completed.

St. Mary's and Dalhousie, both in Halifax, appear to be ahead of the rush. St. Mary's policy is that Nova Scotians get priority, the remainder of the Atlantic provinces next and then outsiders.

Registrar Dougie Blue of University of New Brunswick in Fredericton, faced with a rash of applicants, also gives preference to students in the province. There is no artificial space shortage, he says, because number of applications and withdrawals have been about even.

EXPECTS REFUSALS

University of Moncton says the number of qualified applicants matched the university's capacity enrolment of about 1,850. Mount Allison University in Sackville expects a "fair number of qualified applicants" will be refused.

Prince of Wales College in Charlottetown anticipates a space problem.

On the Prairies, University of Winnipeg, which an official says "is badly pushed for space," has rented two classrooms in a nearby building. However, the spokesman said the usual six-to-eight per cent of applicants will not show up and as a result there should be room for all.

University of Manitoba, also in Winnipeg, has limited the number of students in law, medicine, home economics and other specialist faculties. But it says this is routine and not a result of a current space shortage.

Brandon University says no students will be turned away because there is no room.

University of Saskatchewan reports ample space except in the engineering department of the Regina campus. The department is new there this year.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Shake There, Pard, Worrisome Words

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner:

My problem is not moist palms, but really sweaty ones—wet. In winter they are cold most all the time.

Not only is this uncomfortable but it is getting to be a real social problem. I live in panic at having to shake hands or touch anyone.

Is there any solution? Can a doctor remove the sweat glands or something? My feet are the same way but at least I don't shake hands with them. Please answer—when you stop laughing.—Mrs. R.H.

That's no laughing matter.

There is no way to remove the sweat glands of the palms, but I understand that in some instances it is possible to sever certain nerves and thus reduce excessive perspiration. For this you would have to consult a neurosurgeon—and be sure to have him explain to you, first, any possible side effects that might occur.

However, before that, I would have the situation reviewed by a dermatologist (skin specialist). Sedative medications as well as local treatment should be tried to see if they will work. After all, in nearly all cases such as yours, we generally find that the patient's nerves are acting up and not the sweat glands themselves, and becomes nervous about it, the worse the sweating.

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes stomach ulcers and can they be cured? I am 22 with three small children. I am very nervous and develop an awful lot of gas. Can a nervous, gassy stomach cause ulcers?—Mrs. M.E.D.

The exact cause of ulcers is not known, but too-constant activity of the intestine, spicy (irritating) foods, excessive acidity in the stomach, nervous tension, and tobacco all are known to help incite ulcers.

There is no simple answer to your question, but if you do not insist on over-simplification, most ulcers can be healed.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 68, in good health except for varicose veins. Ten years ago I had surgery on the main artery of the heart. I wasn't getting enough blood in my legs to be able to walk.

The surgery was very successful and I had no more trouble until last year. My legs ache at night and the veins are getting big knots. Would it be advisable at my age to have varicose vein surgery?—Mrs. R.L.

I can see no objection to such surgery, from what you tell me. It is vastly less serious than your operation of 10 years ago. I hope others take note of your success with the surgery in the artery. When it is clogged sufficiently to deprive the legs of necessary circulation, it can indeed even prevent people from walking.

It's an entirely different situation than varicose veins, of course, even though the end result—impaired circulation—is similar.

Dear Dr. Molner: I went to the doctor because of a discharge. He said it is normal and cleanses the vagina. I am not satisfied with this because it has been so severe I have had to wear a pad for three years, and I am irritable and uncomfortable.—C.K.

A discharge of this degree is not a normal cleansing process. It implies infection. Frequently a trichomonas (parasitic) infection is present. This can be readily diagnosed by examining the discharge microscopically, and it can be treated successfully.

I would suggest another examination, preferably by a gynecologist.

Plenty More Bleeps And Blinks Being Observed Now In Canada

TORONTO (CP) — Did you know there are a lot more clicks, gloops, bleeps and blinks in Canada today than a year ago—about 26 per cent more.

The latest census is the report of the Canadian Information Processing Society on the number of computers—the machines that makes funny noises while it whistles through complex problems in fractions of a second—in use in Canada.

Formerly called the Computer Society of Canada, it reported 1,613 computers digesting and spewing out data, compared with 1,279 a year ago and only 502 in 1964.

Its survey doesn't go into detailed costs, but it shows that Canadian businesses, governments and schools are paying $14,865,000 a month in rentals. That doesn't include the costs to users who have bought their machines outright.

As could be expected, the survey shows that International Business Machines, the industry giant, is the biggest supplier of computers in Canada, as well as the biggest rent collector.

GETS BIG RENT

IBM accounts for 959 of the machines in use in Canada, the society says, and pulls in $10,626,000 a month in rentals, or 71.5 per cent of the total.

Industrial Ontario is the biggest user of computers, with 11 installed compared with 410 in Quebec, 119 in Alberta and 107 in British Columbia.

Manufacturing concerns account for 400 of the computers to rank as No. 1 user, followed by financial institutions with 191.

Manufacturers, though, are pickers when it comes to renting the big computers. The survey found that financial institutions have 10 computers costing $50,000 a month or more to rent, while manufacturers have only two.

It also shows that governments are only a bit behind the big money boys in employing computers. Various government branches have 186 computers in use, including nine in the $50,000-or-more-a-month club.

In all, there are 37 computers renting for more than $50,000 monthly.

The most common rental bracket, however, is between $2,000 and $5,000 a month. There are 504 computers shown in this group as being in use, while machines costing up to $2,000 a month—the cheapest class—account for 389.

Not surprisingly, the Canadian government is shown as the biggest single user of computers—96 of them. And that doesn't include computers humming away in various Crown agencies and corporations, such as the 25 shown for Atomic Energy Commission of Canada, the seven at Air Canada or the 16 at CNR.

CANADA'S STORY

You'll Never Guess Big Prairie Export

By BOB BOWMAN

What was the prairie's biggest export in 1890? Take five guesses and if you come up with the right answer without peeking below you deserve a place in Reach for the Top.

The answer is: buffalo bones. There were no more buffalo on the prairies if people like Frank Oliver, Norman Luxton, and Sam Livingstone had not taken fast action, the buffalo would have been extinct.

Yet in 1874, when the North West Mounted Police crossed the prairies to Alberta, the buffalo was the most numerous large animal on the earth. They were slaughtered in a few years of civilization, and their bones were strewn all over the prairies. They became the first cash crop of the settlers, who followed the building of the railways.

Buffalo bones were in demand in the U.S. where they were used for fertilizer, blending sugar, and for making certain household articles. People would go searching for buffalo bones in horse-drawn caravans sometimes stretching for a mile. When an area of bones was spotted there would be a race to get there first.

Chief shrimping points were Calgary, Regina, Saskatoon, Medicine Hat, Moose Jaw, and Swift Current. W. H. Duncan of Saskatoon shipped four carloads of bones to Chicago on Sept. 10, 1890, and followed with six more carloads one week later. The bones shipped from Saskatoon by Duncan and others represented 250,000 buffalo. Many came from the Batoche-Fish Creek area where the Riel rebellion began in 1885.

The bones boom lasted until 1893 when there was a severe depression in the U.S. The Northwestern Fertilizer Company in Chicago nearly went bankrupt and stopped buying. By that time the supply of bones had become scarce, in any case.

Demise Of Winter Works Won't Hit Vernon Hard

VERNON (Special) — Cancellation by the federal government of the winter works program will not affect Vernon "too much," in the words of city engineer D. S. MacKay. Mayor William Halina said the city is not unduly disturbed, because no major winter works had been scheduled. Recoveries money-wise had been low for the past while, Mr. MacKay added. Similar remarks were made by Ald. Carl Romer, chairman of the city council's public works committee. However, Ald. Romer added that the program had helped to keep more men on the city works crew than otherwise would have been possible.

No special program under the winter works scheme had been so far planned for this city. That more and more people are hearing about Vernon was a statement on Tuesday by Mayor William Halina who told a city council meeting of being contacted at 11 p.m. on Sunday by a party of officials from Powell River who were anxious to see this city's new complex, and to talk over the whole deal. Arrangements were made for Monday morning, continued the mayor, who said that members of the party were pleased and impressed with the buildings and arrangements here. While the appointment had been a little difficult to arrange as Monday was a holiday, the results were more than worthwhile. A delegation from Nainaimo had recently made the same request, amongst others, the mayor concluded.

Ald. Alan Hassell will be one of two representatives to attend the Union of B.C. Municipalities in Vancouver Sept. 18-20, and he told council Monday morning that he is prepared to support any Vernon resolutions, of which there are three.

Under discussion was Vernon's resolution which would petition the provincial government to accept its responsibility in the matter of costs re the arrangement of intoxicated persons and pay its 80 per cent of the costs of the provincial scheme. The provincial law regarding intoxicated persons has been changed, so that he or she may be apprehended, lodged in jail, given a bed for the night and breakfast, if necessary, without being charged or fined.

While the Vernon resolution states this is a "step in the right direction to rehabilitate the intoxicated," it becomes more of a welfare problem than a criminal one, according to the text of the resolution. However, the cost of employing police to apprehend, lodge, feed and guard such persons becomes the sole responsibility of the city or district, and as municipalities pay 20 per cent of the welfare costs of the province, the Union of B.C. Municipalities will be asked to petition the government to accept its responsibility and pay its 80 per cent of the costs. City council Tuesday endorsed this resolution.

While its resolution was alleged by Ald. Hassell to differ from that originally voted on, the intent was the same he said. Ald. William Monk is the second delegate from Vernon to the convention.

Ald. Alan Hassell volunteered to attend a seminar on recreation to be held in Castlegar Nov. 16 and 17. The city had been asked to send representation. It is understood the board of School District 22 (Vernon) has also been requested to send a delegate.

A so-far unnamed man will be authorized to attend a short course in Civil Defence in October. Whoever is chosen to attend will be on regular wages or salary; the government paying his expenses while on the course. These two decisions were made Sept. 3, at a city council committee meeting.

Band Girls To Be Honored

VERNON (Special) — Vernon Chamber of Commerce will be asked to join the city as a host for a dinner honoring the Vernon McIntosh Girls' Pipe Band and the Vernon Girls' Trumpet Band, as a token of appreciation for all the bands have done to promote their home town.

Mayor William Halina said on Tuesday that the girls have all done an excellent and outstanding job as ambassadors of Vernon, recognition is their just due. He said being members of the bands had given the young people an opportunity of doing something worthwhile.

"In fact, you cannot buy with a dollar what the bands have done," said Mayor Halina, whose idea it was in the first place that the city honor the bands and their leaders. Some entertainment will likely be provided to round out the evening. Ald. Alan Hassell has been working on suitable ways and means of recognizing the aggregations.

VERNON (Special) — The Rutland Park and Recreation Society was held in the Dillman Room at the Centennial Community Centre on Tuesday at 8 p.m. to discuss plans for coming fall season, president Clarence Mallach in the chair. The financial report presented by the treasurer indicated that the new hall was paying its way, also the swimming pool, in spite of difficulties resulting from the transition from the old pavilion and dressing rooms, to the new hall, in which these facilities have not been completed as yet. It is hoped that this part of the planned Centennial project will be completed in time for the 1969 season. The new caretaker, Al Asmus was complimented upon the appearance of the hall and the park grounds.

In preparation for the first big event of the next season, the May Day celebrations, the meeting considered plans for a joint meeting with the parks board, prior to the Hall Committee meeting on Sept. 2 at 7 p.m. The hall committee was authorized to order 100 more chairs, and the ladies auxiliary undertook to pay the bill, Mrs. Wayne Slyter, their chairman, confirming the offer.

Plans to provide more parking for the hall were advanced, and the area to the east of the building will be levelled and set aside for this purpose. Better lighting for the Park entrance gate, and for the main driveway will also be installed. Last year's Halloween party having been so successful, it was decided to hold another one this year. Mrs. William Husch and Mrs. Win Rudolph will again be in charge.

Funds for this will be solicited from the community, and it is hoped by this means to eliminate the annual "trick or treat" routine. The ladies auxiliary are looking after arrangements in the hall.

Chicago Sequel Hits Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The furor ignited by street demonstrations and police tactics at the Democratic convention has swirled into Congress and prompted an investigation by a presidential advisory board.

The investigation, third started in two weeks, has been announced here by Dr. Milton Eisenhower, chairman of a violence study commission named by President Johnson after the assassination of Senator Robert F. Kennedy.

Attorney-General Ramsey Clark and Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley started investigations earlier.

Eisenhower said his group also will study July's gun battle between police and black militants in Cleveland and, possibly, the rioting in a Miami Negro neighborhood during the Republican convention.

The Chicago demonstrations, police countermeasures and news reporting sparked a congressional floor debate Wednesday that pitted Ohio's two Democratic senators against each other.

The state's junior senator, Senator Stephen M. Young, said:

"The security arrangements for the Democratic convention turned out to be a disaster and a disgrace."

"Democracy was clubbed to death by Mayor Daley's police." But most congressmen sided with Ohio's Senator Frank J. Lausche, who said he's tired of reading that violent demonstrations are the consequence of police brutality.

Senator Russell Long (Dem.-La.) described the demonstrators as a "bunch of troublemakers."

"The mob included some of the most dedicated Communists and conspirators in America," he added.

Representative Roman C. Pucinski, Chicago Democrat, accused news men of doing "an outrageous, unfair job" of covering the demonstrations.

"I don't understand what makes the media so squeamish" about showing provocative actions by the crowd, said Representative Wayne L. Hays, (Dem.-Ohio). "Let the American people know what kind of trash, burns they are."

OKS DIRECT RULE

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — India's lower house of Parliament approved Thursday the declaration of president's rule—direct rule by the Indian central government—in the north Indian state of Punjab which has suffered months of political instability. President's rule was imposed on the state a week ago. Other states ruled directly from New Delhi are Uttar Pradesh, Bihar and West Bengal.

Near-Slavery Conditions Noted On S. Africa-Ruled Territories

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (Reuters) — A South-West African described to a United Nations fact-finding team here today what he said were near-slavery conditions for African workers in the South African-ruled territory.

He also claimed there were more than 45,000 prisoners in South and South-West African jails, most of them for offences not found elsewhere in the world.

Ben Amathila, 29, who described himself as Walvis Bay branch chairman of the South-West African Peoples Organization, was the first witness to testify before the four-man UN working group on prison and work conditions in southern Africa.

The group is on the last stage of a seven-country investigation. He said that under apartheid conditions in South-West Africa "the white man's sole interest in the African was as a source of cheap labor."

African prisoners were hived out to white industrialists by the prison department and became their property as long as payments continued, he said.

The witness also described a grade system of African labor by which A and B workers were housed in grim barracks, 16 to a room 16 feet by 14 feet, and paid around two shillings (27 cents) for a nine-hour working day.

Those in C grade, boys of 10 years and upward and old men, could earn 10 shillings a month looking after livestock, if their employers were honest enough, he said.

But they could lose their pay, or even their lives, for losing a single sheep.

Rush Seen As Fraud Victim With Partners As Culprits

LONDON (CP) — The defence maintained today that Toronto stock promoter Myer Rush is the victim of a fraud initiated by his partners, Joseph Williams and Manuel Britstone.

Sir Peter Rawlinson, appearing for Rush in the Bow Street court hearing of the Ontario government's request for Rush's extradition, maintained also that Britstone, who had given evidence against Rush in Toronto, was a member of a crime syndicate run by the Mafia.

Britstone is currently serving a one-year term in the Ontario reformatory after pleading guilty to charges that he participated with Rush and Williams in a $100,000,000 stock-fraud conspiracy.

Rawlinson told the court that Rush had purchased British Overseas Mutual Fund Corp. from Williams, a Toronto lawyer, on the reasonable understanding that the corporation controlled valuable mining claims in Guyana.

CLAIM STOCK VALUELESS

The Crown has charged that Rush and his associates sold stock in British Overseas Mutual and a companion company, Darien Exploration Ltd., knowing that the stock was valueless.

Rawlinson maintained that Williams and Britstone were in collusion and that Rush sincerely believed that the mining claims were of value.

Rawlinson traced the complicated stages of the Rush case from its inception in Toronto and repeatedly recalled that Rush had been badly beaten in an attack in February, 1967, and that he was "nearly killed" in a bomb explosion in a hotel last November in Toronto.

One person, Frank Marchildon of Toronto, was charged in connection with the February beating and is currently on bail. Rawlinson said that Rush had declined to give evidence against Marchildon.

Rawlinson maintained that it was a curious development that Britstone, who allegedly had played a prominent role in the stock-fraud conspiracy, was allowed to change his plea to guilty and that he received a sentence of only one year in prison.

Brother Of Bride Soloist At Pretty Summer Wedding

The First Lutheran Church was decorated with yellow, orange and green gladioli on August 24 at 3 p.m., for the wedding of Bette Diane Andres, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Andres of Rutland to Glenn Barry Ebl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ebl of Rutland.

Rev. R. H. Liskie officiated at the ceremony, and the soloist was the bride's brother, Jeffrey Andres, who sang "O Perfect Love and Thou Their Hands and Feet" accompanied by Mrs. F. Ruf.

Given in marriage by her father the lovely bride wore a floor length princess style dress of white brocade fashioned with a low sweetheart neckline and long lily-point sleeves. A graceful train fell from the fitted waistline, and her head-dress was a single white rose, holding in place a bouffant, three-quarter-length veil. Her grandmother's handkerchief and a gold stone ring represented "something old and something borrowed" and she carried a cascading bouquet of red roses tied with streamers dotted with rose buds.

The maid of honor, Miss Brenda Boklage, of Kelowna, and the bridesmaids, Miss Connie Sauer, of Rutland and the bride's cousin, Miss Lynnette Andres, of Greenwood, were charming in empire dresses of green sparkle crepe with bodices of silver and green stripes. Their head-dresses were rhinestone tiaras. The bride's little Tammy Rupp, of Winnipeg, was flower girl and carried a basket of multicolored flowers, and young James Ruf, of Kelowna, was the ring bearer.

Acting as best man was Bikar Johal of Rutland, and the ushers were Kenneth Hassey of Williams Lake and the bride's brother Richard Andres of Rutland.

The reception was held at the Rutland Centennial Hall, and the mother of the bride received wearing a semi-fitted dress of orange double-knit, with a matching hat and black accessories. The groom's mother who assisted her in receiving the guests, chose a semi-fitted dress of black satin back crepe with a matching coat and a hat of the same material. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Allan Ebl, brother of the groom, proposed the bridal toast which was ably answered by the groom, and the best man gave the toast to the bridesmaids.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and

Mrs. Allan Ebl and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Buresh and Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Ewan Turner of Salmon Arm, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ebl and Frank Ebl, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ebl and sons of Knutsford, B.C., Mr. and Mrs. Bob New and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Filek and family, Kamloops, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Novak and family of Sheridan, Ore., Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Rupp and family, of Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Doering, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ediel of Roblin, Man., Mr. and Mrs. Ed Novakowski and family and Ken Hassey of Williams Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Gardner of Westbank and Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Andres and family of Greenwood.

To travel on her honeymoon to the B.C. Coast and parts of the U.S., the bride changed to a yellow cape suit with white accessories.

The newlyweds will reside at Douglas Road, Rutland.

Engagement Announced

THOMSON-WALL
Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Thomson of Kelowna are pleased to announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Lynnette, to John W. Wall, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Wall of Winnipeg. The wedding date will be announced later.

Child's Imagination Can Be Captured In An Art Gallery

TORONTO (CP) — Children in an art gallery aren't so different from adults. Show them an abstract painting and they're apt to announce scornfully that they could do that. Show them an environmental work such as a giant hamburger of sauteed and foam rubber and they clown and make jokes about where the mustard is.

With a child, though, there is a chance you can catch his imagination with the work, whether he ever decides to like it or not. If you can do that, you may have opened a door for him to a new and exciting interest. At least, that's the approach taken by the volunteer tourers at the Art Gallery of Ontario.

Mrs. J. G. Gibson, who has been taking tours through the gallery for 10 years, says children seem to respond best to questions that challenge their first reactions.

"Grown-ups only take a tour because they want to, and you can often just go through your spiel. You have to get the interest of kids and that can be quite difficult, because usually they're forced to come. Sometimes if they've come from a distance, they do everything in the city in a day and if you get them last, they're tired."

TRAIN GUIDES
Most of the school children are from the Toronto area. The city's board of education has its own tour guide.

Gallery guides are members who have been trained by the staff. Mrs. Gibson says when the membership was canvassed, 300 applications came in.

"A lot of them had been art students, but it's not just knowledge that counts. It's like any kind of teaching. You hope you are sort of setting up a storehouse of people to be interested in art in the future. You want the kids to be excited and interested."

Dear Ann Landers: My penmanship is absolutely terrible and I am ashamed of it. I have tried my darndest to improve but I am a hopeless case.

A few weeks ago my father passed away and I had to acknowledge many bouquets and telegrams. I typed the thank you notes on my personal stationery and signed my name in ink. It came back to me that I was "a jerky dame who had no manners" because the notes should have been handwritten.

I wish I could have done the notes by hand but no one would have been able to read them. Am I "a jerky dame"? — THE SCRAWLER

Dear S.: Better to send a typewritten note than a handwritten note that is illegible. As a person who has seen a great deal of illegible handwriting, I'm with you.

6 p.m. — Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color (c) — Sammy, the Way-Out Seal (Part 11) — Arthur and Peter Loomis afraid to tell their parents about their new pet seal, find themselves in even deeper trouble when the animal gobbles up a valuable tropical fish collection.

7 p.m. — Hits a Poppin — Featuring Mike Campbell, The Rascals, Susan Jacks and The Numerality Singers, Howie Vickers, Ernestine Anderson, Marty Gillan and Ken Colman.

7:30 p.m. — The Ed Sullivan Show (c) — A 90-minute salute to Irving Berlin featuring guests: Bing Crosby, Peter Gennaro, Robert Goulet, Harry James and his orchestra, Ethel Merman, Morecambe and Wise, Diana Ross and the Supremes, and Fred Waring and his Glee Club.

9 p.m. — Bonanza (c) — A Dream to Dream — Julie Harris guest-stars as a married woman who falls in love with Hoss.

10 p.m. — Intertel: April Is the End Of Summer — Kit Denton narrates this Australian Broadcasting Commission documentary on Thailand, filmed over two months by an ABC crew which travelled 3,000 miles throughout this Southeast Asian nation. The program attempts to show what Thailand — the only Southeast Asian nation never colonized, and a ripe target for communist subversion according to Peking — and its people are like. The program shows the four principal geographic areas: the northern hills close to Burma; the north-east plateau along the Mekong River; the great central plain, one of Asia's richest rice bowls; and the jungled southern peninsula.

11:20 p.m. — Sunday Cinema "Fort Bowie."

MONDAY, SEPT. 9

7:30 p.m. — Reflections and The River Boy.

8 p.m. — Show of The Week — TBA

9 p.m. — The Style Is The Man Himself — A documentary by Cameron Graham which chronicles last spring's campaign for leadership of the Liberal Party, culminating in the election at the Liberal Convention of Pierre Elliott Trudeau as national Liberal leader, and prime minister. A penetrating study of the Liberal leadership campaign and the 'style' of the eventual successful candidate and Canadian Prime Minister, Pierre Elliott Trudeau, made by the production and editorial team who created the Wilderness Award-winning film of 1967, Hail and Farewell, which focused on the Progressive Conservative leadership campaign. The program picks up immediately after Lester Pearson announced his resignation and a leadership convention was called by the Liberal Party.

9 p.m. — Creative Persons (c) — Who is . . . Rufino Tamayo — Film attempts to capture some of the awkward and frustrating mystery in Mexican painter Tamayo's canvasses and in Mexico itself.

9:30 p.m. — Bertrand Russell — An hour-long film documentary on the life and times of philosopher — mathematician Bertrand Russell. In this film, written by Oscar-winning dramatist Robert Bolt, Russell himself contributes personal glances at the past, a summation of the world today and even a look ahead.

10:30 p.m. — It's A Square World.

11:36 p.m. — Hollywood Theatre, "Brothers-In-Law."

THURSDAY, SEPT. 12

8 p.m. — Youth And The Law — First of two programs prepared by young people in an attempt to answer two questions: What is the purpose of law? How well do our institutions fulfill the purpose of the law? From the viewpoint of youth, the programs examine the ways in which police, the courts, reform institutions, probation officers and society itself deal with young offenders and their problems. The first program deals with arrest, detention, bail, legal aid and trial. The second looks at incarceration, probation and includes a discussion of ways in which the legal system might be improved. Written by Fred Harris, the programs are narrated by Brant Frayne, produced and directed by Neil Andrews — all of the staff of the CBC-TV program Through the Eyes of Tomorrow. Actors play the parts of the young offenders, but police, magistrates, jailer and others are all real people.

8:30 p.m. — Telescope (c) Cock of the Walk — A self-portrait of controversial Canadian Gordon Sinclair.

9 p.m. — The Danny Thomas Hour (c) — Fame Is a Four Letter Word — Carolyn Jones and Barry Sullivan head an all-star cast in this drama about a reputable press agent's attempts to dry up the poison pen of a scandal publisher. Richard Conte, Aldo Ray, Michael Rennie and Geraldine Brooks are also featured.

10 p.m. — The Felony Squad (c).

10:30 p.m. — Peyton Place
11:36 p.m. — Gunsmoke

FRIDAY, SEPT. 13

8 p.m. — Youth And The Law — Second of a two-part examination of the ways in which police, the courts, reform institutions and society itself deal with the problems of young offenders.

8:30 p.m. — Tonight In Person — The Seekers.

9 p.m. — Mystery Hour

10 p.m. — Dean Martin Show

11:35 p.m. — Hollywood Theatre, "Between Heaven and Hell."

Beautiful Downtown Burbank Just One Suburb To Benefit

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Outside of having a natural disaster or a famous son, a town's best chance for fame may be to capture a comedian's fancy.

Three Los Angeles suburbs were relatively obscure until Jack Benny's stationmaster in 1941 began 24 years of bawling on radio and television: "Train leaves on track five for Anaheim, Azusa and Cuc-Amonga."

Vaudevillians used to stutter, "I'm from Walla Walla, the t-town they n-named t-twice." The latest comedy-celebrated community is Burbank, population 97,000, whose Chamber of Commerce threw a big civic luncheon the other day to honor television's Dan Rowan and Dick Martin for references to "beautiful downtown Burbank" on their "laugh-in" series. The comedians tape the show at the NBC studios in Burbank.

The "lunch-in" had all the trimmings: Rowan, Martin and their cast arriving on shrieking Burbank fire trucks . . . about 1,000 diners . . . a congressman and several state legislators on the dais . . . honorary chamber memberships and ambassadorial sashes for Dan and Dick . . . kisses from Miss Burbank, Terry Murphy.

"You have made beautiful

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — Lou Gotlieb, former singer with the Limelighters, was sentenced to 15 days in jail Tuesday for failing to clear his ranch of hippies. A court order had been issued for the clearance following months of complaints by neighbors. He was sentenced for contempt of court and also fined $1,500.

downtown Burbank' a nationally recognized slogan," Mayor John B. Whitney intoned.

The honors actually represented a turning of the other cheek. Rowan and Martin—ignoring the town's $1,000,000 shopping mall, theatre and other attractions—had filmed and shown the national audience a dilapidated motel, trash-littered alleys and other views as "beautiful downtown Burbank."

"Luckily," said Rowan, "we have a community with a sense of humor."

The reverse of praise has paid off in tourist-attracting publicity "you couldn't afford to buy," said the mayor. A tourist wrote him, "we drove all the way from Cleveland to see beautiful downtown Burbank."

Some airline pilots tell passengers, "now landing in beautiful downtown Burbank." Bumper stickers, "vacation in beautiful downtown Burbank," have shown up as far away as West Germany. Some distant telephone operators ask "Oh, is this beautiful downtown Burbank?"

Venice Festival Gets A Bit Warm

VENICE (AP) — The Venice
Film Festival, once a major event for the Western world's film makers, struggled open today after weeks of bickering and leftist protests.

The protestors, many of them left-wing journalists, were still on hand when the doors of the festival cinema palace finally opened two days late. They shouted and stamped their feet as the first film, Enfant Nu, came on the screen.

The director of the film, Maurice Pialat, stopped the showing near the end, saying some sequences of the film had been poorly edited and cut.

Organizers of the festival, its director, Luigi Chiari, the city government of Venice and the movie industry have been wrangling for months about control of the festival.

NOT EXACTLY IN THE SCRIPT

VANCOUVER (CP) —
"Rrrrrrip, Cock-a-doodle-doo," and other peculiar noises were among the sounds heard by British Columbia CBC-TV
viewers tuned in to Friday night's late night movie—The Story of Will Rogers. The CBC public relations officer, Dave Dixon, said Tuesday that the sounds of ripping trousers and others were added to the film
by an audio operator.

Mr. Dixon said an investigation is under way.

The audio operator was summer relief help and his job ended the night he showed the movie, he added.

One viewer said the background sound effects started with a warbling sound which did not appear to have any connection with the movie.

This was followed by the crowing of a rooster when Rogers showed his flying buddies some old silent news film of air ace Billy Mitchell bombing a battleship.

The symbol of these movies
when sound came to the films was a rooster giving a mighty crow.

And when Rogers got off a corral fence it sounded as though he had torn out the seat of his pants.

Term of 'Foremost College' Doesn't Apply To Old Theatre

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Its letterheads still read: "America's foremost college of theatre arts," but padlocks are on the doors of Pasadena Playhouse, and the legendary old theatre soon may be on the auction block.

The bank foreclosed the mortgage in April, and most of the staff left this month. But Playhouse mentors hope for an 11th-hour reprieve.

It will take at least $295,000 to open the doors this fall, and another $150,000 later to keep operations going.

If the money is to be raised, some of it may come from the show business community which the theatre-school has served for 52 years.

Its alumni list is star studded. Tyrone Power studied there and so did Raymond Burr. Carolyn Jones, Lee J. Cobb, Victor Jory, Robert Young, Martha Hyer, Robert Preston, Dana Andrews and Barbara Rush all were students. A recent graduate is Dustin Hoffman.

SEEK FUNDS

During the first financial crisis two years ago, when the Internal Revenue Service padlocked the doors, alumni staged a telethon which temporarily kept the wolf away. But the current crisis has elicited few contributions.

"It's a bad time to be foreclosed on," says Alexander Holt, business manager. "Everyone is away on vacation."

The Arroyo-Colorado branch of Bank of America has stalled final foreclosure until Sept. 13, when the Playhouse could be auctioned to the highest bidder.

The three-building, six-storey playhouse includes a dozen classrooms, four small theatres—each seating 50 persons—and the main theatre which seats 750.

PROMISE HELP

A few "angels" still may save the Playhouse. Bob Hope, who didn't attend the school but is sympathetic, has promised to rally alumni for a network TV special and donate its sale price—probably about $175,000—to the Playhouse. The city of Pasadena, which annually contributes $15,000, threw in an extra $25,000 this year. Some investors have proposed buying the property and leasing it back to the school.

Holt traces the Playhouse troubles back to 1960 when Gilmore Brown, its founder, died. A philanthropist, Brown raised funds or donated them himself after opening the theatre-school in 1917. Then, says Holt, Actors Equity ruled that stars appearing in Playhouse shows had to be paid scale wages. That ruled out volunteer performances which often swelled box office receipts. And when Los Angeles opened its multi-million-dollar Music Centre theatre, competition for audiences became stiff. In spite of the crisis, Playhouse directors are planning the fall curriculum. An accredited two-year college, the Playhouse offers a bachelor of fine arts degree to students with a two-year junior college background. Last semester 170 were enrolled. The school can accommodate 250.

De Gaulle Evicts Mona Lisa Canvas

PARIS (AP)—Treasured by generations of French royalty, the Mona Lisa has fallen victim to President Charles de Gaulle's determination to restore France's glory.

The world's best known and probably most valuable painting has been removed from the place of honor in the Louvre's Grande Galerie where it had hung for decades. It has been put in a darker, cluttered room nearby.

The reason is that Culture Minister Andre Malraux has decreed that the Louvre should be primarily a showcase for French painting.

In an official history of the museum the chief curator wrote with pride in the 1950s, "the Grande Galerie, up to the Giacomini (Mona Lisa) tribune, is devoted to the growth and maturity of Italian classicism. From the tribune to the far end of the Louvre one can trace more completely than anywhere else in the world the extraordinary flowering of painting in Europe, in all its varied aspects."

This has all been changed. Against the bright outer wall of the long gallery hangs not the enigmatic Giacomini but the portrait of a fool, Gilles, by the 18th century French master Antoine Watteau.

Sullen and stupid, Gilles has inspired neither poets nor songwriters. Nor has he lived the adventures of Mona Lisa.

WROTE SCORE
Elmer Bernstein, Academy Award-winner, wrote the score for the motion picture 'Where's Jack?'

Book Corner

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Edward Weeks, American essayist, retired editor of The Atlantic Monthly and an angler of long experience, salutes a number of Canadian rivers he has known and fished "with intimacy" in a new book, Fresh Waters, published by Little, Brown and Co.

With his base of operations in Boston, the rivers of the Maritime provinces, and especially New Brunswick's Miramichi, were his favorite haunts; although he found time to fish the Campbell and the Gold in British Columbia, and made several angling expeditions overseas.

What particularly attracted a busy man of letters to Canadian streams and rivers? The sheer joy of fishing was the major attraction, but there was also the fascination of raw nature.

"The chief reason why

American anglers headed for Canada in the late spring," he wrote, "was the fact Canadian rivers and streams were relatively unpolluted and still in a rugged state." He views with dismay the "gradual poisoning" of some of New Brunswick's finest fishing spots.

The book is imbued with a love of the outdoors, and the sensitive drawings of Walter Dower, reproduced in two colors, add to Weeks' prose.

The book also tells of literary and angling life in England—and even in Tashkent where he was able to angle in Soviet waters. Closer to home there is his fine tribute to Roderick Haig-Brown, pioneer Canadian conservationist.

Fresh Waters, by Edward Weeks, $9.75, Little, Brown and Co.

A sure cure for witchcraft? Mix half a pint of moose milk with two or three teaspoons of rattlesnake poison, half a cup of angeworm oil, the brains of three rats and the wings of a bat.

Home remedies? Try catnip for asthma, alum for sore gums, moose grass for a good spring tonic, a potato in your pocket for rheumatism and an onion poultice for that nagging chest cold.

In her new book, Bluenose Magic, Popular Beliefs and Superstitions in Nova Scotia, Maritime author Dr. Helen Creighton chronicles the beliefs and superstitions, many of Scottish origin, which have been handed down through generations of Nova Scotians.

"Perhaps Nova Scotians are particularly sensitive to supernatural experience because we are a seafaring people," she writes.

Bluenose Magic tells of "visions and forerunners," the most common form of the supernatural; buried treasure, and those with a guardian ghost; good and bad luck, particularly at sea; divination (to find a spring, use an alder branch), and the weather (crying loons are a sure sign of rain).

Bluenose Magic, Popular Beliefs and Superstitions in Nova Scotia, by Helen Creighton, $6.50, Byersson Press.

Britain's book publishers are launching another try at getting exempted from the country's selective employment tax, which they claim discriminates against them.

The two-year-old tax is imposed on employers in non-manufacturing industries, partly as a tax on service and partly to channel labor into production work. Newspapers and periodicals are classified as manufactures and exempt, but book publishing is not.

The Publishers' Association finds the tax particularly anomalous since book publishers are listed as manufacturers in the government's standard industrial classification—but not for purposes of the special tax.

The tax amounts to 25 shillings a week per adult male employee, less for women and youngsters. Longmans Green, as an example, pays £22,000 a year.

The book publishers had no luck with James Callaghan when he was chancellor of the exchequer, but state in their annual report they will try again with Roy Jenkins, his successor. Jenkins' March budget boosted the tax by 50 per cent effective Sept. 2 but he announced that an outside expert is being called in to inquire into its workings.

CBC Workers To Affiliate

TORONTO (CP) — About 2,200 CBC workers, members of the Association of Radio and Television Employees of Canada, have voted to affiliate with the Canadian Union of Public Employees.

Results of the mailed vote were released Monday.

ARTEC's members include announcers, salesmen, stenographers and clerical employees who work in 13 CBC centres.

CUPE recently was certified to represent 1,700 CBC television and film production employees and now plans to create a broadcast division to cover its new field of operations.

The other major union at the CBC is the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians, also representing about 2,200 employees.

Broadcasting Revenues Rise

OTTAWA (CP) — The privately-owned part of the radio and television broadcasting industry had operating profits totalling $27,500,000 last year, compared with $25,400,000 in 1966, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The bureau said no CBC profits or losses were reported because any unexpended balance of Parliament's appropriations is treated as an account due to the federal government.

The radio and TV broadcasting industry including the CBC, had broadcasting revenues totalling $199,700,000, compared with $180,400,000 in 1966. Total operating revenue rose to $214,200,000 from $192,400,000.

Total operating expenses in private and CBC accounts rose to $332,500,000 from $285,100,000 in 1966. But operating revenue exceeded expenses in the private sector of the industry to leave the operating profit of $27,500,000.

Golden Shower Pours Down On 'Best Young Actor' Arkin

NEW YORK (AP)—Alan Arkin is an inwardly haunted man living in a golden shower.

Critics acclaim him as the best young acting talent of the decade, producers stand in line to offer him fat roles at fat prices. He can practically name it and it's his.

To the brooding, dark-haired actor his success while still on the sunny side of 35 is wildly marvellous and paradoxically comical, as he feels life itself is.

"I love is," he said frankly. "Mostly because it gives me a wider choice of things to pick from."

The disadvantage of success is that it robs you of illusions—the usual illusions about how wonderful everything would be if you were only successful.

"You discover that there is no peaches-and-cream fulfillment in the money itself. You find out that what Freud said is true—fulfillment lies in a man's being able to work and love."

Acting became Alan's career goal at the age of five. Today it stands for more than either fame or bread to him. It's also both an escape and a discovery.

HE HAS TO ACT

"It's like eating with me. The same way some people have to eat, I have to act. It's an additional basic necessity to me."

"Acting has a reward beyond the performance. It stretches me emotionally. I like the feeling it gives of reaching areas of myself that I would ordinarily have trouble reaching. And whatever I find belongs to me. I don't lose it."

Alan, who recently completed making Pop!, in which he plays

... golden boy

a middle-aged Puerto Rican widower, won an Academy Award nomination for his first film, The Russians Are Coming, is expected to garner another for his role as the deaf mute in The Heart Is a Lonely Hunter.

A childhood on the edge of poverty and a dozen scrabbling years of acting apprenticeship have left Alan with a deep feeling of kinship for the hurt, dislocated dreamers of this world.

"I did all the things most young actors do," he recalled. "I repaired vacuum cleaners, cleaned up offices, taught the guitar."

"Once I worked 10 minutes at a desk job where I had to add some columns of figures. It depressed me so much that I left and never came back."

I'M NOT AMUSED

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Magician Channing Pollock's trick of turning dresses into ribbons didn't impress his wife, Josephine won a divorce from her husband saying the stunt was "the last straw." She said Pollock didn't use sleight-of-hand but a pair of scissors and did the deed in a fit of temper.

Lucy's Two Kids To Work For Her

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Television comedienne Lucille Ball is putting her two children to work for her—under contract. Lucie, 17, and Desi Arnaz IV, 15, have signed contracts with Lucille Ball Productions to appear in her new television series, Here's Lucy. The contracts became official when Judge Robert Wenke approved them in Superior Court Wednesday. Each will be paid $17,600 for the first year.

"Food for Thought"

By Owen L. O. Hughes
Did you hear about the girl who got her own way so often that she wrote her diary a week ahead of time?

It's too hot to live on Venus, too cold on the moon, too polluted on earth and too late to come up with an alternative.

I'm delighted, the lightning bug yelled when he backed into a lawnmower.

You never know how the human voice can change until you hear a woman stop bawling out her husband to answer the phone.

MARLENE SUES

Marlene Dietrich, above, is suing French novelist Roger Peyrefitte for defamation, court sources here said Tuesday. The German-born movie actress and singer claims she was defamed in a passage of Peyrefitte's recent book Les Americaines, the sources said. She was reported seeking about $4,000 damages jointly from the author and his publishers, Editions Flammarion. The case is scheduled to come up in court Oct. 3, but then is expected to be adjourned to a later date, the sources added.

Final Days For Fishing

By JIM TREADGOLD

THE LABOR DAY weekend was a busy one for most of our mountain lakes as many anglers took advantage of the holiday to get in one of the last fishing trips of the season. The pressure on the fish will now be less as more of the sportmen turn to hunting for their recreation. There has been some good fishing the past week with good catches coming out of many lakes, including Jack Pine, Bear, Pennask, the Dee chain, 1st Fly Lake in particular, and Jimmy Lake. One party of four American anglers took home their possession limits from Beaver Lake. The nicest catch I saw this week was from Jack Pine Lake and was taken on a Brown Hackle dry fly. Of late the fish are taking well all day. Jimmy Lake has been exceptional this season for such a small lake and no doubt there will be some good days there this fall. A couple of other lakes that will no doubt show up this fall are Hidden Lake at Enderby and Niskolith Lake at Chase. Wood Lake at Westwood is also a good bet due to the low water and concentration of fish. Bear produces nice trout and is well stocked.

KOKANEE FISHING is still quite good on Okanagan Lake but I expect this will fall off shortly as the mature four-year-olds head for the streams to spawn. Mission Creek will be quite a sight soon as these red fish head upstream. A good place to watch the run is at the fish ladder at the foot of Ziprick road in Rutland where they congregate because of the barrier. Casorso road bridge is also a point where they can be viewed. It is illegal to take or molest these fish on their spawning run.

The high water in the creek this fall will give the fish a better chance to get to the place of their birth and will also keep the boys from getting at them. I have had several inquiries this week on the sockeye salmon run at the Adams river. This is one of the big runs that is a sight to see when the Adams is full of these large red fish.

There is a special weekend celebration put on by the Shuswap people called "the Salute to the Salmon." The date has not been set as yet but is usually around the middle of October. It is governed by the time the Adams sockeye run enters the Fraser river on their upstream migration. If you have never seen this run it is well worth the trip there. It takes about two hours by car.

OUR KOKANEE, we are told by the biologists, are a descendant of the sockeye, being landlocked here many years ago, and adapting to living their life span in the lake. No doubt their smaller size is due to the difference in the feed between the lake and the ocean. It is only in recent years that anglers have learned how to catch these fish in numbers by lures. They, like the sockeye, are not supposed to take a lure as they are both gill feeders.

Kokanee are often caught with their gills full of plankton, and the angler sometimes thinks that this is a fungus in the gills and throws the fish away. However there is nothing wrong with that fish. It is perfectly normal and good to eat. The plankton will wash out of the gills.

A number of large trout are still being taken in Okanagan Lake and is amazing for this time of year. Last week Murray Solvey took a six and an eight-pounder in one afternoon. All are being taken on deep lines, 300 feet or more of steel line, and the Mac Squid plug has been the best lure. One of the most productive areas for the big fish has been the Boucherie Point south of Casa Loma, this area is actually part of Mission Bay and extends to Rocky Point, and is deep water.

The large trout begin to surface in November and are fished for a lot all winter, by the more hardy types.

PENNASK LAKE has been productive and some good sized fish for this lake are being taken. The last four miles of road are still rough and somewhat wet. The spring salmon run in the Shuswap river is getting larger and the best fishing for these will be between now and Sept. 15 when the season on them closes.

The grouse season opens this Saturday and many shooters will be out after the blue, white and Franklin species. There have been varying reports as to their numbers this year, but Saturday will tell the tale.

The weather this summer has not been good for the raising of the grouse chicks but grouse are supposed to be in an upward cycle. There was a good increase last season.

The deer season in this area, GMA 6, does not open for another week. Deer opened last weekend in GMA 8 which is the Carmi-Beaverdell area for local hunters and a number were bagged. I have heard of three goats being taken in the Beaverdell area on the opening weekend. Two were bagged by Terry Houston and Mike Blifford. The goat season is short there and closes this Sunday. There is a three-day season on goat in GMA 6 later in September.

The Short Creek sheep season is Sept. 21 to Sept. 29, three-quarter curl only. In the part of GMA 6 west of Okanagan Lake and River the open season is Sept. 21 to Oct. 6. In GMA 7, that is the Ashnola band of sheep, the season is Sept. 21 to 29. There is no goat season this year in the Ashnola area.

The sale of hunting licences has been brisk and with the increase in the cost of game tags the value of tags sold is exceeding the value of licences. Had one resident hunter and his wife in that purchased $57 worth of tags. They were going on a week's guided hunt in the Rockies west of Jasper. The price of tags does not seem to be any deterrent to the average hunter and a great many are taking the three deer tags allowed.

No Concern For Parker

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

British Columbia Lions have something else to contend with Saturday in addition to the fact they have lost their last two games—Saskatchewan Roughriders are in top condition.

Saskatchewan coach Eagle Keys isn't too concerned about the return of Jackie Parker as the Lions' quarterback when the two Western Conference clubs clash in a game to be televised on the full CBC network from Vancouver.

Keys, who says his club is almost in 100 per cent condition, thinks Parker did "a real good job" in his first attempt at a comeback—a 26-6 defeat at the hands of Calgary—but believes Parker may have trouble Saturday.

"Sometimes playing the first game is a little easier than the second."

The Lions will also add Bob Brown, 21, a 245-pound defensive lineman, in an attempt to better their fourth place standing in the conference. Brown, Ottawa nominee for Lineman of the Year last season, said Ottawa's reason for cutting him—a bad back—was "a lot of baloney."

Brooklin Wins Second Game In Bid For Lacrosse Crown

OSHAWA (CP) — Playing without coach Don Craggs of Brooklin Redmen hopes he can throw away his underwear Sunday afternoon, but his club will have to win the Mann Cup senior lacrosse championship before he can get rid of the good luck charm. "I told the guys before the series started that I wasn't going to wash it until we won the cup," Craggs said Thursday night after the Redmen whipped Nanaimo Luckies 11-6 to take a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven series.

"If we win Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, I'll even throw it away."

The 36-year-old coach, who played for the Redmen when they won the intermediate A, B and C titles and four eastern Senior A championships, says he isn't superstitious. But Craggs uses every trick he can to keep his club running for the whole game.

"We got lucky Thursday night," he said. "We played the same way we have all year—we get a big lead and then sit back."

SCORE TWO EACH Wayne Davidson and Jerry Burrows each scored two goals Thursday night as the Redmen came off a 2-2 first period tie to score six unanswered goals in the second.

Craggs, Dave Houston, Jim Campbell, Ken Green, Doug Vipond, Bob Stickle and captain Paul Trann added the other Brooklin goals.

Defenceman Gary Thompson, Gerry Shiers, Larry Biggs, Charlie Saunders, Bill Russell and Don Stephanson scored for Nanaimo in a game riddled with penalties. Each team picked up five majors for fighting and rookie Steve Bishop of the Luckies was given a 10-minute misconduct for disrupting a call by referee Bob Dobbie.

Green Gaels Eye Minto Cup; Meet Salmonbellies Tonight

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP) — New Westminster Salmonbellies have the goal of a 13-7 trouncing and the Power of Positive Thinking on their side when they meet Oshawa Green Gaels tonight in the second game of the best-of-seven Minto Cup series for the Canadian junior lacrosse championship.

"We can beat these guys—we know that," Salmonbellies coach Art Burrow said Thursday.

But Oshawa coach Jim Bishop is doing a bit of positive thinking himself. He feels his team was in less than "classical" form when it defeated the Salmonbellies Wednesday.

"We'll get much better," he said. If his team does get much better, and goes on to win the series, it will be the Gaels' sixth straight Minto Cup championship—five at the expense of Salmonbellies.

The westerners lost goalie Terry Garrett in the crucial final minutes of play Wednesday night with a leg injury and their hopes may rest with his condition for tonight's game. He is expected to start.

Oshawa's high-scoring forward Ross Jones—with 101 goals this year—was ejected from the game after a first-quarter argument with referee Paul Morneau, prompting coach Bishop to remark: "If we were looking for an extra shot of adrenaline, Mr. Morneau gave it to us."

He feels the Oshawa team is the best one yet to come West. The Gaels held only a one-goal edge going into the final 15 minutes of play Wednesday but quickly dashed New Westminster's hopes by scoring twice in the first minute of the fourth period to take the score to 10-7.

Within another two minutes the Gaels scored two more goals to wrap up the game.

Third game of the series is scheduled for Saturday night, the fourth for Monday. All games will be played in New Westminster.

Soccer Club Moves Ahead

At a general meeting held in the Parks and Recreation Board Room on Sept. 4, the newly-formed Kelowna Soccer Club elected its executive for the 1968-69 season.

Elected were: Eric Waldron, President; Dr. Mike Whittaker, Vice President; Archie August, Treasurer; Brian Robinson, Secretary; John Vuksic and Derrick Crowther, members of the executive.

Registration day for all new players for the 1968-69 season has been set for Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Board Room of the public library, Queensway and Ellis. All boys interested in playing soccer, aged seven and up are invited to register. Boys must bring their birth certificates and, if possible, be accompanied by their parents to sign registration forms. The executive is seeking sponsors and coaches for the forthcoming season and would appreciate hearing from interested persons.

Tigers And Cardinals Resume Pennant Races

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Detroit and St. Louis resume their pennant chases tonight with the Tigers home against Minnesota Twins and the Cardinals meeting visiting San Francisco Giants in a two-night doubleheader.

The Tigers, enjoying an eight game bulge in the American League, have 21 games to play—the same number as pursuing Baltimore Orioles. That means the magic number for Detroit to clinch its first pennant since 1945 is 14. Any combination of 14 Tiger victories and-or Oriole losses will wrap it up for Detroit.

The National League Cardinals are 13½ games in front of second place San Francisco Giants and have the same record as the Tigers—69-52.

St. Louis, with 21 games remaining, has a magic number of seven to clinch its second consecutive flag.

In the only game played in the majors Thursday, Chicago White Sox nipped Washington Senators 2-1.

Gerry McNertney's two-run single in the seventh inning wiped out a 1-0 Washington lead and gave rookie Jerry Nyman his second straight victory. Nyman allowed three hits in seven innings with Hoyt Wilhelm and Gary Peters finishing up.

The Tigers sent Denny Mc-

Lain after his 28th victory tonight against the Twins, who will counter with Jim Kaat, 12-10.

In tonight's other American League games, Washington plays at New York with Jim Hannan, 9-3, going for the Senators against Mel Stottlemyre, 18-11. Cleveland is at Oakland with Stan Williams, 11-9 opposing John "Blue Moon" Odom, 13-9.

Chicago sends Joe Horlen, 10-12, against the Orioles' Jim Hardin, 17-10, at Baltimore. Jim Lonborg, 5-5, goes for Boston against California's Dennis Bennett, 6-3, or Andy Messersmith, 1-0.

In single games, New York is at Pittsburgh with Jim McAndrew, 1-6, facing Steve Blass, 13-5. Houston pitches Don Wilson, 12-13, at Atlanta's Pat Jarvis, 14-9, and Philadelphia uses Rick Wise, 8-12, against Chicago's Bill Hands, 15-8.

35. Help Wanted Female

AVON CALLING with CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Due to rapid expansion of our managerial sales staff, excellent opportunities are available for women capable of handling sales management roles in British Columbia and, in particular, the lower Fraser Valley, Okanagan and Kootenay areas north to Kamloops and Revelstoke. This is a challenging position requiring a mature person able to work on her own. An outstanding growing income opportunity is offered, starting in the $5,500 - $6,000 range. A fully-paid, comprehensive training program eliminates the need for prior experience in our field and the successful applicant will enjoy full company benefits and expense allowances.

We are looking for an aggressive person who enjoys working with people and would be willing to relocate within the province if necessary. Candidates should have a good educational background, hold a driver's permit and be between the ages of 25 and 40.

Please forward resume with recent snapshot as soon as possible to:

Labor Situation Balanced Except In Vernon District

There is little demand for farm labor in the Okanagan except in the Vernon area, where Tuesday a brisk demand for help was reported.

The Bartlett pear harvest has been completed in the Southern Okanagan and the picking of Vee peaches, plums and prunes continues, the farm labor office reported in its weekly bulletin.

Labor representatives in this area list either a balanced labor-demand-supply situation or a slight surplus of labor.

In the northern section of the Valley ripe tomatoes are being harvested and the picking of Bartlett pears is tapering off, with an acceleration in demand for tomato pickers expected by this weekend. Except for the Vernon report, a balanced labor situation exists.

McIntosh apples will be picked in small quantities this weekend, with dates for regular picking set for Tuesday and Sept. 18, depending on locality and weather conditions.

There is some surplus labor in Kelowna, Rutland and Winfield districts, where the pear harvest is winding up. Prunes should be picked and some McIntoshes by the end of the week.

At Vernon, the tomato harvest is progressing, with a greater labor demand expected by the weekend.

The pear harvest is completed at Oyama. There is an adequate labor supply.

At Keremeos, Osoyoos and Oliver the Bartlett Pear harvest is completed and prunes and plums are being picked. A balanced labor demand-supply situation is reported.

The Bartlett pear harvest is finished at Penicton and Summerland. Vee peaches and some prunes are being harvested with a balanced labor situation reported.

FLY TO FISH
REGINA (CP) — Tourist development officials say airplane trips to some of Saskatchewan's more remote lakes are proving popular. Most of the passengers are fishermen after pike, pickerel and rainbow trout.

Opening lead—three of hearts. This deal occurred in the qualifying-round match between Holland and Denmark. The Dutch team, led by the current world pair champions, Bob Slavenburg and Hans Kreyns, had been expected to finish among the top four in the qualifying round of the 33-nation Olympiad played earlier this year, and, in fact, they finished third.

The bidding went as shown and Kreyns was lucky to get a heart lead from West. Playing in his usual rapid style, Kreyns won the heart in his hand with the ten, cashed the ace of spades, and ruffed a spade.

A diamond to the king was followed by another spade ruff, and a diamond to the ace (on which West's queen fell) was followed by a third spade ruff with the jack. This was now the position:

Kreyns would have gone down one, after cashing the club ace, had he attempted to exit from dummy by leading the ace of hearts, intending to ruff a heart next and draw trumps. East would have ruffed the heart and a diamond return would have allowed West to score the queen of trumps for the setting trick.

Kreyns would also have failed had he tried to exit from dummy by ruffing the jack of diamonds with the eight. West would have overruffed and returned a heart to beat the slam.

Alert to both possibilities, Kreyns instead ruffed the jack of diamonds with the king of clubs and returned the eight of clubs. As a result of the safety play, he came home with the slam.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
Restrictions where personal relationships are concerned continue, unfortunately, so determine to keep your spirit steady and to maintain a serene disposition, no matter what provocations you face. This will not be a good period for either romance or social activities, but be patient. Better influences will prevail during the next 48 hours.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope promises an interesting and productive year. Both material and personal interests will be governed by generous stellar influences and, through the spacing of achievement in these various areas of your life, you should find the next 12 months a continuous cycle of happy surprises. In your private life, for instance, you are currently in an extraordinarily propitious period for romance — one which will last for three weeks. Then, again, beginning with December 1st, Cupid smiles and, for the single, there will be the possibility of marriage before the end of that month. Next good months for sentimental interests: February, May and June. Most auspicious periods for travel: The balance of this month, all of January (exceptionally good) and mid-1969.

Where occupational and financial interests are concerned, do not be dismayed if both have been at something of a standstill lately. You are slated for gains on both fronts—and soon! On the monetary score, you should note a fine upturn during the last three months of this year, to be followed by other good periods for increasing assets in late March, May, June and July. Best periods for advancing jobwise: Between now and November 1st, January, March, June and July. Creative workers should experience periods of lofty inspiration and achievement before this month is over; also in January, February and June.

A child born on this day will be endowed with a remarkable memory, fine intuition and unusual ability along technological and/or educational lines.

MOVE ALONG, PLEASE . . .

A young lady ignored the curfew imposed on Berkeley residents following outbursts by students demanding the closure of Telegraph avenue. The Berkeley police were forced to carry her from the area after she refused to move on. The City of Berkeley, torn by three days of gunfire, dynamiting and arson attempts is quiet today.

Millions Of Canadians Live In Severe Poverty

OTTAWA (CP) — The Economic Council of Canada says millions of Canadians live in poverty, "a disgrace" that must be wiped out by a great national offensive.

In language that looks unmistakably like a challenge to the Trudeau government, the council's fifth annual review published Thursday deplores "entrapment and hopelessness" reaching into every corner of the country.

By its most conservative definition, one in five non-farm families lacks a decent, minimum standard of living. The council's standard for low-income Canadians: More than 70 per cent of income goes to buy the simplest necessities of food, shelter and clothing.

SETS GOAL

If Canadian society "aspires to be a just society," it must make the elimination of serious poverty a major national goal, says the council, a body of experts established by Parliament to advise government on the economy.

Canada suffered from more poverty than it could tolerate, more than its economy could afford, and far more than existing measures could cope with.

Ruling out sentimental gestures, the council calls for "compassionate realism" in attacking the problem.

Starting immediately, existing anti-poverty policies must be co-ordinated and exploited to their limit. It urges pilot research projects into urban poverty and the launching of a special inquiry by the Senate.

In the long-term, the council suggests a complete evaluation and reappraisal of all government and private policies bearing on poverty. Nothing must escape questioning.

The council asks: What is the purpose, in 1968 circumstances, of family allowances?

MAKES OTHER POINTS

The council, an independent body set up by Parliament to advise the government on the economy, made these other points in its 65,000-word review:

—The setup and value of regional development programs should be re-assessed.

—Canadian agriculture has to put more effort into technology to improve output.

—While pure research is fine, Canada needs more attention on putting new techniques into effective use.

Economy In Healthy State

He also said that the council basically feels the Canadian economy is not doing too badly right now. Progress toward some economic goals was slower than it might be, however.

DEALS WITH PEOPLE

The review's most outspoken sections, though, dealt with people. Mr. Smith said economists have been late in recognizing the importance of people in an economy. In the past, they had been concerned with capital, markets, resources — "but it's people who are at the centre of economic growth and development."

But, the review says, far too many people in Canada face "entrapment and hopelessness" because of poverty that reaches into cities and towns and stretches across the country.

By its measure, one non-farm family in five lacks a decent, minimum living standard. The council defines a low-income family as one in which more than 70 per cent of its income goes to buy basic food, shelter and clothing.

On this basis, the poor include single persons earning less than $1,500 yearly, families of two earning less than $2,500 and families of five earning less than $4,000.

This definition, the council says, is conservative.

The review says a regional attack on poverty likely is doomed to fail.

Arthur J. R. Smith, council chairman, told reporters: the council was not necessarily challenging the usefulness of development programs, or of other social programs such as family allowances.

But, he said, these programs should be examined to see if they are doing their intended jobs or if the job could be accomplished more effectively some other way.

FAMILY ALLOWANCES, introduced 25 years ago, should be reassessed in light of today's economic conditions.

Generally, government programs which needed a careful watch were those involving subsidies.

This was not to be taken as a blanket attack on subsidies, but they often were used to shore up a weak element of the economy, tying up resources which could be used more profitably elsewhere.

Teachers Pay And Grievances Delay Some U.S. Fall Terms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Teachers striking over salary and other grievances have postponed the opening of the fall school term for thousands of pupils around the United States.

In Michigan, 67,700 youngsters continued their summer vacations as 12 districts remained closed. Teachers in another 35 districts agreed to work while contract talks continue.

The New York City public school system with 1,100,000 students was threatened with a repeat of last fall's teachers' strike as the head of the teachers union said he would recommend a walkout Monday.

The New York dispute involves a controversy over hiring and firing of teachers by an experimental local school board in Brooklyn.

The board dismissed 10 teachers last spring and the teachers' union says there will be a city-wide strike unless 10 of them are reinstated. The other nine accepted reassignments.

Last fall, negotiations between teachers and the school board continued in Philadelphia, on medical insurance.

to avert a strike in the 276,000-pupil system which starts classes Friday.

A teacher boycott in East St. Louis, Ill., was in its second week with 23,600 pupils affected. Negotiations Wednesday were fruitless as the 900-teacher union sought higher pay and a formal working agreement.

In Madison, Ill., where some 35 of the town's 3,000 pupils picked up to get back in class, the school board went to court in an effort to return teachers to their jobs.

About 100 teachers submitted mass resignations which the school board refused to honor.

The board sought a circuit court judgment to determine if he could hire replacements for teachers who refused to report.

Darien, Conn., teachers voted to stay away from classes again today to support demands for higher pay. Affected were about 5,200 pupils in the city's 10 public schools.

East Haven, Conn., schools with 6,000 pupils were hit by a strike with the dispute centring on teacher salaries and the school board inclusion of teachers' families on medical insurance.

B.C. Labor Raps Report

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia labor leaders Thursday night condemned the Rand report, claiming it contains the worst features of B.C. labor legislation over the past 10 years.

Ray Haynes, secretary of the B.C. Federation of Labor, said Chief Justice Ivan C. Rand had made "the same mistake that other so-called experts have made" in his royal commission report on Ontario labor problems.

"Instead of less interference in labor-management relations, as suggested by a recent panel of the Canadian Bar Association in Vancouver, his suggestions appear to be in the opposite direction," Mr. Haynes said.

"If we are going to have labor peace it seems to me that the governments should have less interference instead of more. Nothing in his recommendations, to this point, indicates that he is fully appreciative of understanding of industrial relations."

The report, released Thursday, lists among its recommendations that labor unions be recognized as legal entities—a move that has been law in B.C. since 1959.

The B.C. legislation also restricted picketing, made unions responsible for their members' actions and ended the possibility of secondary boycotts.

Since then, unions have been sued on a number of occasions. In 1961, for example, the B.C. Supreme Court ordered the International Union of Operating Engineers to pay $39,600 damages to Perini Pacific Ltd. following an illegal strike at a bridge construction site.

"There is a fallacy that all that is needed is to pass a law that people shall not be allowed to strike," Mr. Haynes said.

"All this will do is prevent legal strikes, but will not stop illegal walkouts."

George Johnston, vice-president of the federation, said the Rand report contains nothing favorable to labor.

"If any or all of his recommendations are implemented it is obvious they would destroy free collective bargaining as we know it," he said.

"It certainly can lead only to a completely chaotic condition insofar as the relationship between management and labor is concerned."

another Peter Jackson smoker has just won $10,000

Mr. Harry More of 2092 West 2nd Avenue, Vancouver, finds "Mission Impossible" an entertaining show. But, one night recently, he found the action off the screen more exciting than the action on it!

What could be more exciting than opening a pack of Peter Jackson and finding a cash certificate worth $10,000? Quite understandably, Mr. More has lost interest in television lately. He's too busy planning how he'll expand his business with the $10,000.

Next time you settle down for some quiet T-viewing, open a pack of Peter Jackson. You never know. It may turn out to be the most exciting evening of your life... $10,000 worth of excitement!

Bad Drought Hits Haiti

PORT AU PRINCE (Reuters) — Eighteen months of drought have brought famine conditions in Haiti which one United Nations official described as "worse than those in Biafra."

Although August rains brought some relief to the barren northwest peninsula, cases of kwashiorkor — a disease caused by chronic protein deficiency — are still being discovered by aid missions working in remote hill communities.

The precise number of deaths in the 1,200-square-mile area, where 210,000 persons live at subsistence level, cannot be reliably estimated. But in one district alone, more than 400 deaths between May and July were officially registered as due to starvation.

A French United Nations official who once lived at Port au Prince, a decaying north coast coffee port, reported being "appalled at conditions worse than those in Biafra."

The official, no longer in Haiti, said he had seen people die of hunger on the steps of his home.

CROPS ARE LOST

Lack of winter rains for two consecutive seasons virtually wiped out basic foodstuffs like maize, beans and mangoes.

Seeds that could be planted were eaten by pests. People were so hungry they ate earth sprinkled with juice of wild lemons.

Several deaths were reported from eating a yam which contained a cyanide-like poison.

Officials working in the region said people ate rats "if there were any left."

Traditionally, Haitian peasant women have been known to offer their children for sale to out-of-town strangers, hoping to give them a better life at a "moun canille" — creole for house-boy.

In the northwest it was reliably reported the "going price" for a child this summer dropped from the usual $3 to $5 to only $1.50 (40 cents).
